Ex-Felon Who Would 'Kill' Is Arrested

A paroled ex-convict, who reportedly once said he would "kill any officer who attempts to take me in," was arrested today at gunpoint at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera on an auto theft charge.

Vincent R. Finnegan, 35, was awakened by police and sheriff's officers with raised guns in his apartment at the inn at 7 a.m. He put up no battle.

Police throughout the state had been looking for Finnegan on a Mill Valley car theft charge. He was arrested on a warrant from Mill Valley police.

Corte Madera Officer Charles E. Newman received an anonymous telephone tip that the wanted man was staying at the inn and was the driver of a late model Cadillac. Newman radioed for assistance from other police departments and the sheriff's office.

Finnegan allegedly gave a salesman for Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co. in Mill Valley a $400 check for a 1961 Corvair Nov. 12. The next day the salesman, Lloyd Delbo, found the check was worthless.

Finnegan reportedly rented a 1962 Cadillac in San Bernardino Dec. 4, depositing another worthless check. It was the same car which was at the Edgewater.

Sgt. David D. McIntosh of Corte Madera police said word had been passed around that Finnegan said: "I will not be taken alive and I will kill any officer who attempts to take me in.'

President Calls Upon Labor For Support In Red Battle

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy, referring to the present period of international crisis as "this Pearl Harbor," asked organized labor today to play a larger role in combating the worldwide spread of communism.

The chief executive spoke to the AFL-CIO national convention on the 20th anniversary of the Japanese sneak attack. He said the challenges of today, "this Pearl Harbor," were "greater and more far-reaching."

Against this background, Kennedy called for strong labor support in a broad range of U.S. programs to strengthen other nations. He particularly asked union support for a liberalized foreign trade program which he will submit to Congress next year.

Speaking to a cheering audience of more than 4,000, the president opened with jocular thanks to American union members for their support in the 1960 elections.

He said he appeared before them today "as one whose work and continuing employment has depended in part on the union movement." He had received a more cautious reception yesterday in New York before the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Kennedy took pride in announcing that during November, for the first time in a year, the level of unemployment had fallen below 6.8 per cent of the work force, down to 6.1 per cent. "And it must go lower," he said to applause.

Before addressing the labor convention, the president addressed a national meeting of Young Democrats also in Miami Beach. He urged hard work rather than old slogans to maintain a strong nation in a time of international peril and told his fellow Democrats he was not asking specific election help today, but would come back to them "in 1962 and 1964."

Marin Job Picture Looking Fairly Good

Good weather of the past few days has improved the employment picture in Marin, and the work situation is fairly good for this time of year, according to reports submitted at the Marin County Labor Council meeting last night.

Robert Braes of Carpenters Local 35 reported that the unemployment list had shot up to about 100 men during last week's rain storm, but the out-of-work list had diminished since then. Lloyd Brooks of the Laborers Union turned in a similar report in the labor field.

The construction trades reported some unemployment, but the work situation improving with the ground drying out.

At the next meeting of the Labor Council, set for 8 p.m. Dec. 20, an election will be held to fill a vacancy on the executive board. Board member Frank Lawrence of the Operating Engineers Union was transferred to another office two months ago.

Appeal Made For Burned Out Families

Mrs. Margaret Anderson, county director, said Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Bagwell and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Watson, were temporarily staying with Watson's mother in Santa Rosa.

They had lived with her up until 11 days ago when they moved into the home on Arroyo Road, Lagunitas, which burned down. She said Bagwell's wife is Watson's sister and the couples prefer to continue living together and desire a two-bedroom home in the San Rafael area. Both men are carpenters.

Near-Freezing Temperatures Bring On Frost

Temperatures near the freezing point covered Marin rooftops, lawns and cars with a blanket of frost this morning. The weatherman predicted more of the same for tomorrow, with possibly lower temperatures.

Lowest thermometer reading this morning was at Woodacre, where the mercury dipped to 30 degrees, two below freezing. Novato recorded 31 degrees. Other temperature readings for the county were as follows:

San Anselmo 35, Terra Linda 38, Larkspur's Chevy Chase area 33, Mill Valley 38, Sausalito 40, Belvedere 44, Alto 49, and San Rafael 38.

Sewing Room Fire

A short-circuit in a sewing machine motor caused a fire at 11:30 a.m. today at the home of Frank Heer at 35 Thalia Street, Mill Valley. Firemen estimated damages to furniture and the sewing room at $500.

'Tropic' Jury Begins Reading Miller's Novel

Garety Gives Them 'Preview' Of 1934 Book

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Eight women and four men—the "Tropic of Cancer" trial jury—retired yesterday afternoon to the privacy of the jury room in the Marin County courthouse to read the book in its entirety.

Not one of them has previously read the book, but all heard a "preview" of the controversial Henry Miller novel, first published in Paris in 1934, when Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety read aloud three explosively frank passages in the hushed courtroom.

The private reading session was expected to extend into tomorrow, since Judge Leonard A. Thomas told the jurors it was their duty to skip no passages.

"You must judge the book as a whole in its entire context," Thomas told the jury. "You are to consider it from the standpoint of the entire community — not from your own personal likes or dislikes.

"And you must consider its social importance, its literary or artistic value."

Before sending them to the jury room, Thomas told the jurors the court had considered letting them take the book home to read. "But we wondered if we would ever get you back," he said.

Yesterday's courtroom session ended after cross-examination of Antoan Adam, an investigator for the district attorney who said that on Oct. 25 he purchased a copy of the book from Frank B. Pershina in the Golden Hinde Book Store in San Anselmo.

At that time, Adam said, Pershina pointed out to him lewd passages while smiling, shaking his head from side to side, and saying, "It's filthy."

Dominican Junta May Be Formed

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI) —Informed sources said today the government will shortly announce formation of a seven-man coalition junta with President Joaquin Balaguer heading it.

An official announcement said a cabinet meeting was summoned today. It was expected the crisis settlement formula would be announced after the meeting.

Sources said the political peace agreement would provide for others to take over Balaguer's executive functions.

The next general elections are scheduled in May, 1962.

Reports that an agreement had been reached to end the 10-day anti-government general strike emanated from the presidential palace shortly after a call on Balaguer by the armed forces secretary, Maj. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echevarria. However, Rodriguez told newsmen his visit was "routine" in view of his status as a cabinet member.

Behr Will Try To Take Supervisor Seat On Tuesday

By RANDALL GOULD

Peter Behr will try to sit as a Marin County supervisor for the first time next Tuesday, he said today.

This decision came when he was told that such prompt action seemed physically feasible.

A two-page memorandum by County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to County Clerk George S. Jones, gist of which was conveyed to Behr, provided legal background from the Elections Code for which Jones had asked.

Election returns will, according to McGuire's findings, be canvassed by county supervisors next Monday—the first Monday following the election.

The board will then in turn adopt a canvassing resolution, a certificate of election proceedings, and a resolution declaring election of candidate (Behr) to succeed incumbent (J. Walter Blair).

Jones's duty, said McGuire, is to provide Behr with a form for submitting campaign statement. This statement must be filed with the clerk's office before a certificate of election can be issued.

Because the election wasn't statewide, no campaign statement will be required by committees for or against the recall, according to McGuire.

Within 10 days after receiving his certificate of election Behr must qualify for office by taking and filing oath of office and filing election bond, amounting to $2,000. The county pays the bond cost. Until Behr qualifies Blair is still in.

Behr said today: "It is my personal request that all evidences of the appeal fight, such as bumper signs, be removed at once. Let's put our hatchets away, quit trying to scalp anybody, and get going on county business right now."

Behr said he spent yesterday mainly in putting his San Francisco legal business in such order that from now on he will be able to fulfill his campaign pledge that if elected, the major share of his time will be devoted to his job as supervisor.

His main errand today, he said, would be to talk with Supervisors William D. Fusselman, Walter R. Castro, George Ludy and William Gnoss.

"As a lawyer I am well aware of the Brown Act and of course I shall do nothing to violate it, either in letter or in spirit," said Behr. "I do feel, and I think others feel, that more can be done in future in the

BLAIR RECALL MAKES HISTORY IN CALIFORNIA

Marin's recall election Tuesday was indeed extraordinary.

Latest research by William McDougall, general manager of the County Supervisors Assn. of California, was announced today as having disclosed that:

1. In the history of California there have been only six previous attempts to dislodge a county supervisor by recall.

2. Marin's was the first such recall in state history to be successful.

Asphyxiation Of Child, 2, Is Averted

Asphyxiation of a 2-year-old child because of a defective gas heater was narrowly averted in a San Rafael home today.

The near-victim was the son of Mrs. Wendy Larson of 97 Clarke Street. Her prompt action in opening a window averted possible tragedy, said Kenneth Bazza, fire prevention officer of the San Rafael Fire Department.

Mrs. Larson and a neighbor were sitting in the front room of the home and the child was playing in the floor about 9:15 a.m. the mother told Mazza. The two women both complained their heads had begun to ache. Then Mrs. Larson noticed the child seemed to have fallen asleep.

She rushed to his side and found him unconscious. Quickly she opened a window, turned off the floor furnace. The child revived.

Mrs. Larson called the fire department. Mazza and Chief Building Inspector Andrew Thomas discovered a floor furnace flue was clogged. Readings taken of the escaping

U.S. Plane Set Ablaze Over Congo

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (UPI)—Katanga soldiers hit a low-flying United States Air Force plane with rifle and machinegun fire to*day and set it afire. The dam*aged plane landed safely at Elisabethville airport and the crewmen escaped injury.

With the shooting, U.S. servicemen were brought under fire for the first time in the 18 months of Congo turmoil. In the only other instance of violence against American military men 15 U.S. Air Force technicians were beaten up by Congo troops at Stanleyville last year.

(Shortly after the shooting the United States called off its airlift of troops and supplies to the United Nations forces seeking to bring rebellious Katanga troops under control.)

Flames belched from a fuel tank and one engine of the big Globemaster plane as it landed after coming under the fire of Katanganese troops firing from the streets of Elisabethville.

Loma Verdans Seek To Secede From 'Way Up North To Dixie

The south of Loma Verde wants to secede to Dixie.

So 10 residents of the southern part of Loma Verde subdivision, across High way 101 from Hamilton Air Force Base, told Dixie School District trustees last night.

Loma Verde's "southerners," they said, have remained adamant against unification of San Jose and Novato School Districts—although voters in the San Jose district as a whole approved such unification in an election which was defeated last month in Novato.

Loma Verde's "northerners" now want to annex to the Novato district, said Harlan Clare of 440 Corte Norte, spokesman for the "southerners."

The "southerners'" suggested solution is to split Loma Verde in half and annex its southern part—appropriately enough—to Dixie School District.

Dixie trustees found themselves in a delicate position and declined to reach immediate decision. Their understanding must be, they made clear, that any action taken must be with consent and understanding of the boards of both San Jose and San Rafael. (Both San Jose and Dixie districts are within San Rafael High School District)

Besides Clare, the visiting group included Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Hoffmire, Deloss M. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spitzer, Sally Wood, Warren Tracy, Marion Burrell, and Thomas N. Luzos.

Morals Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert L. McKim, 47, a school superintendent from San Bernardino County, was at liberty on bail today on a morals charge.

A police report said McKim and two other men were arrested Tuesday in a Market Street theater.

Police inspectors reported the three men had been observed engaging in an indecent act.

Toschi said a copy of the arrest report will be sent to the State Board of Education at Sacramento.

Meyner's Future

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner announced today he will enter private law practice when he leaves office next month.

The governor said he will enter law practice in Newark with his personal counsel, Stephen B. Wiley, of Morristown, and his executive secretary, Edwin C. Landis of Trenton.

"I've had in mind for some time—well in advance of election day—the possibility of resuming law practice," Meyner said.

Reds To Viet Nam

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China announced today it would send a military delegation to Communist North Viet Nam "in the near future."

The move came only a few days after a formal Chinese government statement termed the situation in Viet Nam extremely serious and warned against the American-backed buildup of South Vietnamese defense forces.

Attlee Had Attack

AMERSHAM, England (UPI)—Former British Prime Minister Earl (Clement) Attlee has suffered a heart attack and is "gravely ill," doctors at Amersham General Hospital announced today.

Lord Attlee, 78, entered the hospital two days ago for what was described then as a "minor stomach upset." Yesterday it was announced that he had taken a turn for the worse.

Attlee, champion of British Socialism, served as prime minister for six years, from 1945 to 1951.

Crime For Convicts

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The North Carolina Prison Commission has decided its inmates probably won't pick up any more bad habits just by watching crime movies and television.

The commission voted yesterday to allow prisoners to view movies dealing with crime, and to take away from prison officials the right to censor nighttime TV viewing.

Police Scandal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor George Christopher said yesterday two police captains admitted paying $9,000 to their predecessors whose early retirement made their appointments possible.

The mayor called the payments unethical but he said he plans no disciplinary action.

Christopher said that Capt. Willison Lingafelter mortgaged his home to raise $5,000 which he paid to Capt. Ted Terlau. Francis Harrington borrowed $4,000 and gave it to Capt. Thomas I. Flanagan.

The older officers retired before the mandatory age two days before a civil service promotion list headed by Lingafelter and Harrington, then lieutenants expired, Christopher said.

Had the list expired, the two junior officers would have had to take a new examination and could possibly have lost out to someone else.

23-Year Sentence

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—A U.S. Marine was sentenced in a Marine general court martial today to 23 years at hard labor and dishonorable discharge after pleading guilty of unpremeditated murder.

He is Pvt. Calvin Nay, 20, of Los Angeles.

Thant Seeking Approval For New Congo Plan

Aims To Bring Katanga Forces Under Control

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Bolstered by U.S. support, Acting Secretary-General U Thant today sought wider approval for his sweeping new plan to bring the breakaway Congo province of Katanga under United Nations control.

U.N. sources said Thant would submit the plan to his Congo advisory committee before making it public.

Thant disclosed earlier that the plan aims at carrying out U.N. resolutions on the Congo, including the Security Council's directive of Nov. 24 authorizing him to use force if necessary to expel from Katanga the estimated 200 foreign mercenaries serving with President Moise Tshombe's army and air force.

ADLAI ON HAND

Thant outlined the plan last night in a 50-minute briefing at U.N. headquarters with Adlai E. Stevenson, the chief U. S. delegate to the U.N.; G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, and Edmund A. Gullion, U.S. ambassador to The Congo.

"The United States is very pleased with the plan of the secretary-general to bring Katanga under control," Stevenson said.

A U. S. spokesman said the plan included use of force to end the fighting in Katanga and a blueprint of action designed to restore peace throughout the Congo.

U. S. AIRLIFT

The U.S. airlift to Eli\bethville was suddenly suspended today when Katanga troops fired small arms at a Globemaster as it came in over Tshombe's presidential villa for a landing at the Elisabethville airport. Several bullets penetrated the fuselage but caused no serious damage. A report from Leopoldville, The Congo capital, said the U.S. government had agreed to the airlift on condition that full protective cover could be supplied, and Air Force commanders in the Congo were consulting with Washington to determine whether the airlift should continue.

ELVIS FANS DO DAMAGE TO HIGHWAY

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The stream of Elvis Presley fans who park to gape at his mansion near Memphis has forced some extra work onto the State Highway Department.

J. W. Bennett, highway division engineer, said the highway shoulder in the area had developed some dangerous potholes. Gravel did no good because so many girls carried off pebbles as souvenirs.

So a crew was sent to patch the holes and lay asphalt surfacing on the shoulders in the immediate area. The mansion is located between Memphis and suburban Whitehaven.

Successor Is Named For Bridges

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI)— Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire today named Republican State Atty. Gen. Maurice J. Murphy Jr. of Portsmouth to succeed the late Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.)

Murphy, 34, will serve until the 1962 election. The governor's action was a surprise, because many state political leaders had urged him to name Bridges widow, Doloris, or himself.

Powell said that in naming Murphy he was taking into consideration Murphy's age and political philosophy.

Powell said Murphy "devoutly subscribes" to Bridges' political beliefs "and will fearlessly try to express it."

Mrs. Bridges said the governor had told her he would not name her to succeed her husband who died Nov. 26 after suffering a heart seizure. She would not say whether she had eliminated herself.

School Books Held Slanted Toward Left

While Educator Leans Toward Birch Society

Drummond J. McCunn, superintendent of the Contra Costa Junior College District, also told a news conference yesterday that other textbooks "wash out our history."

"We ought not to turn our back on any group of red-blooded Americans," he said.

WHAT BOOKS?

McCunn said he neither belonged to nor endorsed the John Birch Society but praised it for "its exposing of Communism."

The educator declined to specify the books he said were slanted toward socialism. He named a two-volume history published by the University of Michigan Press as "washing out history' 'because it omits the quotes of John Paul Jones, Nathan Hale and other figures in U. S. history.

Later McCunn, 57, of Lafayette, proposed a program on the local-level to combat Communism.

He told the California Assn. of School Administrators that 67 per cent of students responding to a recent university survey in California preferred surrender to war.

'DON'T BELIEVE'

"I don't believe any considerable percentage of our youth wants to surrender to the Communists," countered Glenn W. Hoffman, Glenn County superintendent of schools.

George B. Leonard, San Francisco editor of Look Magazine told the educators that "the one thing that will save us from Communism is an overwhelming majority of truly educated men and women.

U.S. Troops Roll Into W. Berlin After Uneventful Autobahn Trip

BERLIN (AP) — First units of an American battle group rolled into West Berlin today after the Communists voiced a new threat against use of the highway lifeline from West Germany.

The 110-mile ride down the autobahn came after Communist East Germany declared free movements of U.S. North Atlantic Treaty Organization troops along the highway had never been guaranteed by the East Germans or the Soviet Union.

U.S. officials in Paris commented that the troops moving to Berlin are definitely under U.S.— and not NATO—control.

Co. E, First Battle Group, 19th Infantry—about 200 men and 25 jeeps and trucks—began crossing West Berlin's "Checkpoint Bravo" after an uneventful trip through East Germany.

Soviet guards checked the company on the road near Marienborn, just inside the Iron Curtain border of West Germany. Another Soviet detachment checked them out at Babelsberg on the edge of West Berlin.

On the way to Berlin, the eastbound convoy passed a small group of vehicles from the First Battle Group, 18th Infantry, carrying men westward. This group, headed for Kassel, arrived in West Germany after what its commander called an uneventful trip.

The deputy commander of the Berlin-bound troops, Lt. Col. William J. Herman of South Norwalk, Conn., made a roundtrip on the autobahn and reported he noticed nothing unusual except that East German police seemed to be out in larger numbers.

Africans Surprised By 'Real' Americans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is a country where most people are cowboys and the rest are millionaires, no one has to work, and all Indians wear feathers and want to fight.

Or so it seems to most Africans, says Victoria Mutswairo, an African school teacher from Southern Rhodesia.

And, she adds, "I think Americans have just as wrong an impression of Africa."

Mrs. Matswairo is one of 15 women educators from nine African nations who are winding up a three-month tour of this country.

"My biggest surprise in this country was that Americans work hard, they actually sweat," she told a news conference Wednesday.

And where do Africans get their ideas about the United States?

"The children at home admire Americans and American ways," Mrs. Mutswairo said. "They try to copy them, and their models are the films they see on television. The girls try to walk the way American girls walk, and the boys want to wear American style trousers with narrow leg bottoms."

If the Africans were surprised by the real Americans, Mrs. Mutswairo said, many Americans were equally surprised by a true picture of Africans.

"When I talked to your school children," she said, "they were amazed that I could speak their language, that I was fluent in it.

way of informal discussion and clearing up facts which needn't burst on the board meetings suddenly and be hashed over there for the first time."

Questioned about Fusselman's idea of annual rotation of the chairmanship as outlined in yesterday's Independent-Journal, Behr said he could see merit to it and certainly would not oppose the plan if it met with favor of the board members.

This seemingly raised a possibility that Gnoss, who hasn't been chairman, might be invited to take the gavel next, though Gnoss himself felt before revelation of the rotation plan that Castro as former chairman might well take over again.

"It seems to me courteous and logical that Mr. Fusselman remain as chairman through the present year," said Behr.

fumes showed enough carbon monoxide to produce death within one and one-half hours in a closed room, Mazza reported.

Fire Chief Vance Trivett said the near-tragedy pointed up the need for residents to make sure furnaces especially floor and wall furnaces — are properly vented and safe. He said any resident who suspects a heater may be faulty should call the building inspector department, which has equipment to test for furnace defects.

Samaritan Gives Help To Injured

Five victims of a bus-auto crash today on the Candlestick Cutoff in northern San Mateo County were fortunate because Donald T. Briggs of Larkspur happened along.

By the time California Highway Patrolman Joe Zlatunick of the CHP's Redwood City office arrived, Briggs had bleeding stopped from glass cuts and the five victims so thoroughly and professionally bandaged that, reported Zlatunick, "I thought he must be a doctor."

Zlatunick was almost right.

Briggs was a Navy Medical Corpsman in World War II and has aspired to be a doctor. He carries first aid equipment in his car. And although not in the medical profession, he is close to it—his job being to promote sale of Gerber Products Co. baby foods through keeping doctors apprised of their latest improvements.

He was on his way to call on peninsula medical men at 9:15 a.m. today.

About three-quarters of a mile south of the San Francisco line, Robert MacKenzie, 32, a Western Electric Co. employee of San Francisco, was southbound with his three children in a 1961 Mercury. Behind him was a 29-passenger Barrett Transport Co. bus, driven by Howard Mumbower, 55, of San Francisco, with nine passengers aboard.

Just as the bus pulled to the left to pass MacKenzie, the hood on MacKenzie's car flew up. He lost control and veered left. The bus hit the right rear of his sedan, spinning it against the chainlink freeway divider fence.

MacKenzie suffered possible major injuries. He and his three children, Kimberly Ann, 4; Patricia, 3, and Robert, 2, all were taken later to Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame.

Brigg's first aid job for bus passenger Betty O'Brien of 9 Knoll Road, San Rafael, was so good she declined hospitalization.

Fair Condition

SLACKS CAUSE DISMISSAL—This outfit caused Annette Jones to be sent home from grade school at Security, Colo. The principal don't find the garb fitting. (AP Wirephoto)

Slacks Girl Sent Home From School

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — An 11-year-old girl was suspended from a suburban elementary school yesterday because her parents insist on dressing her in slacks.

Principal James Bolin said Annette Jones will not be permitted to return to classes unless she wears a dress. School policy requires dresses to help make young ladies" of the girls, Bolin said.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jones said their daughter, a former hepatitus victim, dressed in heavy slacks to keep warm in the chilly weather.

And in answer to Principal Bolin, Jones said, "When I think my daughter is ready for charm school, I'll send her there."

SAROYAN'S PLAY DRAGS A LITTLE

By BRUCE COLEMAN

William Saroyan's "Time of Your Life" being presented tonight and tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. by the Tamalpais Valley Players, is warm and funny—but it drags.

Morrie Batz, as Nick, tends a bar that smells like a bar and looks like a bar, thanks to set designer Joe Allen and decorator Dianne Brewer. The actors, it seems, must think it is a bar because they do a good job.

Director Robert White has melted Saroyan's long, five-act play into three acts but, by its nature of many stories within a story, "Time of Your Life" has its lulls.

Batz is excellent riding Harry the Hoofer (Dan Scarlett) in his scene saying, "Why do ya wan' be funny? Ya gonna break everyone's heart" in his scene with Anna, his daughter (Devi Batz), in which he tells her to "go home to grandma," and in his scene with Blick (Alan Burdick) in which he shoves the vice squad chief out the door.

Burdick plays a magnificent Blick. Joe, the professor, around whom the plot revolves, is played by Charles Werlin. His pygmalion relation to Tom (Joe Allen) is credible. Allen, a Players veteran, is hayseed Tom with straw hat and awkward gait. He's good.

Grove Nooney, the drunk, swings in and out periously for 20 laughs. Scarlett dances off both his soles to George Duke's plinky piano, wearing us out but adding laughs.

Beer-drinking, beard stroking, gravelly Dick Miller plays Kit Carson as if he just came from the woods. Bernie Healey does a good Dudley, always waiting for Elsie. To the other habitues of Nick's Bar, well done. Gold Old Nick's, we say, good old Saroyan. Good old Tamalpais Valley.

Don Simerville is stage manager; Harry Batz, assistant director; Annette Helmstaedter, costume design; Jay Irving, lighting and effects; Mildred Thomas, properties; Esther Allen, publicity, and Paula White, make-up.

Tiburon Fire Volunteers Elect President, Officers

Other officers are Victor M. Avilla, vice president; Edward J. Parnell, secretary; Adolph Edwards, treasurer, and Louis Soldavini, sergeant-at-arms.

The department voted to use proceeds from the firemen's ball to refurbish 20-year-old engine No. 1 This will include cleaning, painting and rechroming.

The two fire houses will be decorated for Christmas. John Zunich and Myron Christopherson will be in charge.

Establishment of a welfare fund was referred to the budget committee.

Retired Captain Will Live Here

Capt. Ernest R. Babin, who ended a military career of nearly 28 years with retirement last week at Fort Irwin, and his wife, a former Hungarian actress and ballerina, will make their home in San Rafael.

Captain Babin was adjutant of the 16th Armored Group at Fort Irwin.

He began his military career by enlisting in the Ohio National Guard in 1934. When the 37th (Buckeye) Infantry Division was activated in 1940, he was a member of the 37th Reconnaissance Troop.

He was wounded in action on Guadalcanal in World War II and later served in Europe. He served in Allied Central Mission in Hungary after the war.

Brown Aide Named Los Angeles Judge

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has made one of his department heads a Los Angeles Superior Court judge and named a youthful former campaign aide to succeed him.

Vincent Dalsimer, 40, state director of professional and vocational standards, was named to the bench yesterday along with three Los Angeles municipal judges, Bernard Lawler, Ralph H. Nutter and Joseph A. Wapner.

Succeeding Dalsimer in the $16,538-a-year job of supervising 27 regulatory agencies is his chief deputy director, James D. Loebl, 34, who helped in Brown's 1958 gubernatorial campaign and served as his travel secretary. Loebl also assisted in Adlai Stevenson's successful 1948 campaign for governor of Illinois.

Lawler, 48, is a onetime FBI agent and was former city attorney, judge and prosecutor in El Segundo. Nutter is a former attorney for the National Labor Relations Board and Wapner is a former chairman of the California Fulbright Scholarship Commission.

Eureka Called Safest Place In Atom War

Police Chief Says Refugees Are Welcomed

EUREKA (UPI)—Residents of this lumber port near the Oregon border today hailed their unofficial designation as the safest place to be in the United States in the event of atomic attack.

What's more, the police chief said any refugees from the San Francisco Bay Area 280 miles to the south would be welcomed here.

ONLY ONE

Eureka was the only one in the United States. The others were Cork, Ireland; Guadalajara, Mexico; Chile's central valley; Mendoza, Argentina; Belo Horizonte, Brazil; Melbourne, Australia, Christchurch, New Zealand, and Tanartive, Madagascar.

Eureka, the article said, "generally escapes damage in war game attacks because it is west of the Sierras and up-wind from every target in the United States."

STATE MOTTO

California's state motto is "Eureka, I have found it," and some of Eureka's citizenry regarded their newly-recognized distinction with similar exuberance.

"It gives us a good feeling to know we're in an area like this. I'm glad we live here, especially for the children," said Stedman Taylor, a barber.

Lawton Bussman, insurance broker, thought it was "good that our geographical isolation is paying off for a change."

Anting is one of nature's strangest mysteries. A bird, clutching an ant in its bill, contorts itself to stroke the insect against wing and tail feathers. The bird seems to experience an almost trancelike ecstasy.

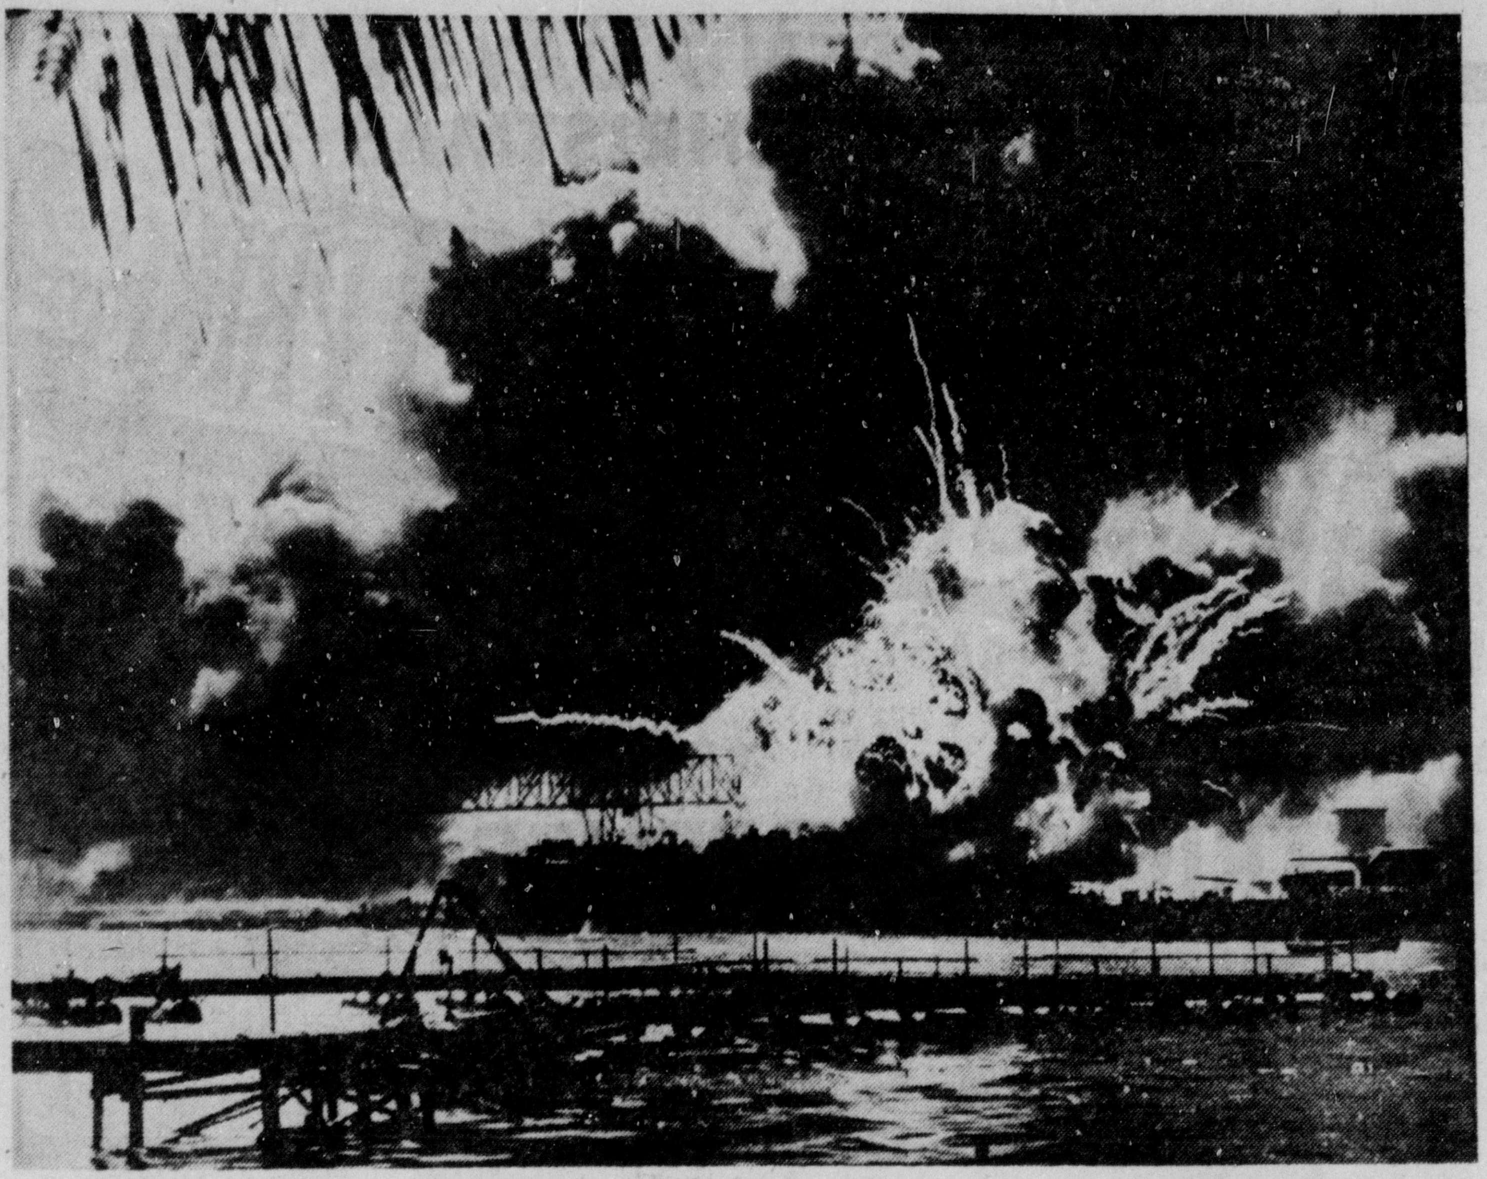
NOW EXPANDED TO THE CORNER OF FOURTH & "C"—OPEN MON. & FRI. UNTIL 9 P.M.



20 YEARS AGO—This was the scene as the destroyer Shaw exploded in the Pearl Harbor attack. (UPI photo)

Pearl Harbor Day Marked By Warning

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP)—"In this missile and thermonuclear age, it would be foolhardy indeed to assume that surprise attack will never be a possibility."

This warning was delivered today by Adm. John H. Sides, commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, at ceremonies marking the 20th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Ceremonies were held on a platform above the waters along "Battleship Row." Activity throughout the naval base halted momentarily in memory of that black Sunday—Dec. 7, 1941.

The ceremony was timed to coincide with the exact moment—7:55 a.m.—when the first Japanese planes swooped low over the battleships lining the northeast shores of Ford Island.

Below the memorial platform for the U.S. Arizona, center of today's ceremonies, was the rusting hulk of the warship and the remains of 1,102 crewmen who went down with her. The Arizona and her crew are symbols of those hours when war came to the United States.

South of the Arizona the old battleship row was vacant. But between the flag flying above the Arizona and one beside Ford Island's administration building — less than a mile away—nearly 2,000 men died on a Sunday morning.

"The lessons learned that day are recorded in blood," said Sides in his memorial address.

"The important thing for us here today, and for all Americans, is to pledge anew that our country shall always remain strong and shall always be ready to defend the freedoms for which we stand and for which these men fought and died."

Taking part in the memorial tribute were military leaders, congressmen, and representatives of veterans organizations, including 108 Pearl Harbor raid survivors from New England. A group of 60 Gold Star mothers, many of whose sons died on the Arizona, also was on hand.

The ceremony was signalled by the sound of carillon chimes from Ford Island, followed by a Navy bugler's call to colors. The American flag was run up the Arizona flagpole, as it is each day.

The Arizona is entitled to fly the flag because of its unique position as the only retired ship in the Navy still commissioned. She is regarded as a member of the fleet because her crew is aboard.

An invocation and hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee"—long associated with sea tragedies—preceded Sides' address. As he finished, a Navy chaplain, Capt. Fred D. Bennett, offered a memorial prayer and a band played the Navy hymn, "Eternal Father, Strong to Save."

Flowers were cast on the waters over the Arizona and floral wreaths were arranged on the platform.

Sides drew a parallel between America's military preparedness today and a generation ago, citing the unified Pacific Command which bosses all Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine units. "Readiness is the key," he said, "and constant training is the watchword."

He added: "No longer are large concentrations of ships seen in this harbor—ships are in and out, a few at a time, on their way to and from their forward positions. Yet with all this, we must always maintain our vigilance and we must never relax our guard."

Design For New Bay Span Is Considered

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new design was under consideration today for the proposed seven-mile San Mateo-Hayward Bay Bridge.

Cost of the span was estimated at 70 million dollars — five million more than a rejected design.

The design was chosen at a special session of the California Toll Bridge Authority yesterday.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown had urged another selection after the original plan was called a "Rip Van Winkle Bridge" because of its double deck, erector-set appearance.

The design chosen is called orthotropic.

A. J. Paddock, vice president of U.S. Steel Corp., commented:

"In women, too?" Brown asked.

The Toll Bridge Authority directed that some noted architectural firm be retained as consultants for the final touches on the basic new design tentatively selected.

The consultants will work with state engineers for a report in January.

Brown said the authority would meet before Jan. 10 to consider formal approval of the new design.

It calls for solid, tapered box-type steel girders supporting a single deck of six lanes.

Most forest fires in this country still are caused by incendiarists, debris burners and careless smokers, in that order.

2 San Jose District Teachers Turn In Their Resignations

The San Jose School District board last night accepted resignations of Mrs. Elaine McCardell as teacher at San Jose Intermediate School and Denton S. Winn as teacher at Lynwood Elementary School.

The identical brief letters of resignations, saying the two resigned in "the best interests of the children and the school system," were accepted unanimously in a meeting that lasted less than five minutes.

Charles McCardell of San Francisco had been charged with assaulting Winn, whom he said he found in the bedroom of Elaine McCardell, his estranged wife, at 366 Tennesee Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, early Nov. 26.

The teachers had been suspended since that time. The board held a four-hour closed meeting on the matter Monday night.

Before the voice vote was taken, Dan Barber, board member, castigated newspapers for "putting them on trial in the public's eye before they knew whether they were guilty of poor judgment or any crime."

A crowd of approximately 50 voiced disapproval at not being allowed any voice in the matter before a vote was taken.

Board chairman Robert Allen gave members of the audience a chance to speak after the meeting was officially adjourned. Approximately 20 spoke in favor of the teachers and one against.

Harold Bertram, a teacher at Lynwood School, said the board's action was "immoral" because teachers could lose their jobs and careers "because our names appear in the papers."

A request to reinstate the two was voiced by Mrs. Benjamin Edgers, who said her children had been under both teachers and she was greatly impressed with them.

George Hockstetler accused the board of "preconceived judgment taken prior to the meeting."

"I send my children to school for an education. I'll take care of the moral end of it at home," said Ray Hoslag in defending the teachers.

Donald Van Curren, whose wife is Meadow Park Parent-Teacher Assn. president, said Mrs. McCardell has done much for his daughter in school.

Thomas D'Luca, president of Pacheco P-TA, was alone in voicing the opinion the board "has done the right thing in accepting the resignations."

Curriculum Study Committee Loses Rev. Llewellyn White

The 15-member San Rafael Curriculum Study Committee last night suffered its first casualty with the resignation of Rev. Llewellyn White.

White will be replaced by a member selected by the Board of Education, according to board member Bella H. Aaron, prior to the committee's next meeting on Jan. 3. The members voted to take a holiday on their next scheduled day, Dec. 18.

Rev. White, because of a change of church assignments, has moved from the district, the committee was told by Ralph K. Hansen, district director of secondary instruction who acted as chairman last night in the absence of H. David Sokoloff.

Paul Haerle was named by acclamation to replace Rev. White as chairman of the public pulse subcommittee, or committee "C" as it is called by the overall group. This subcommittee is to prepare a questionnaire to parents soliciting ideas on specific areas of education.

Inasmuch as White has been absent from recent sub-committee meetings, Haerle said work on the questionnaire had "run out of gas." He said, however, that the material should be ready for mailing soon.

Max Thelen Jr., chairman of the sub-committee on existing curriculum (committee "B") suggested an early meeting devoted to (1) a study of primary curriculum with special reference to legal requirements as to which courses must be taught, and (2) a talk by a department head on "social studies."

Substantial changes in the state code have been made regarding "social studies," Thelen said, and they now must be taught under specific subjects, i.e., history, geography and civics.

"I would propose the committee consider taking up this area for investigation as soon as we have completed our studies of reading," Thelen said.

"Because of legal requirements, changes must be made regardless of this committee."

Hansen said that courses in the district are laid out by March. "We should have an idea of what to teach before then," he said. "It seems appropriate for this committee to participate in the study."

The group continued the discussion of the district reading program, explained in detail at the preceding meeting by a battery of teachers under direction of Mildred B. Bernard, assistant superintendent of elementary instruction and Eve Geiger, curriculum consultant. Committee members indicated they would like to know more about phonic teaching.

After several suggestions as to possible speakers on reading, as it is taught both by phonics and the "look-say" method, a committee of three was named to come up with a speaker on one of the methods for the next meeting. Mrs. Charles G. Strom, Mrs. Walter Tait and Dr. Gwynn Thomson were named to the committee.

Mrs. Geiger, commenting on comments by several members on the desirability of phonic teaching methods, said: "I am most disturbed, after we showed in detail how we teach reading, that anyone can say we use only the 'look-say' method and not phonics."

Mrs. Avis McColm, San Pedro School teacher, said: "I think more phonics are taught here than in any other local school district. It is just that we have not called it by the name of phonics."

Thieves Break Into Market

Thieves broke into Canziani Market in San Rafael Tuesday night and stole about $150 in cash, a transistor radio, and several rolls of salami, San Rafael police reported.

Officer Richard Douglas noticed the front door of the market open at 501 B Street about 4:30 yesterday morning. He investigated and found the door had been pried open.

Owners said $2 was missing from the grocery department, $108 from the meat department, and $30 to $40 from the cash register.

Equalization Head To Re-Run

TULARE (AP) — John W. Lynch, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, announced last night that he will run for re-election next year.

FRED R. DICKSON

Dickson Takes Over Scout Building Fund

Warden Says He Prefers Ounce Of Prevention

In the view of Warden Fred R. Dickson of San Quentin Prison, it is always more satisfying to provide the ounce of prevention than to supply the pound of cure.

It is with this conviction that the supervisor of California's largest prison has accepted chairmanship of the Marin Boy Scout building fund program.

The drive is important, Dickson told an interviewer today, in that it is laying a wholesome groundwork for present and future generations of boys.

"In my work in this prison," he said, "I see before me every day the need for the program of building better boys.

"I firmly believe that building character and good citizenship in our boys and girls is the most important thing in America."

The building program's $314,628 goal, he pointed out, will permit development of Camp Tamarancho near Fairfax and Marin-Sierra north of Emigrant Gap.

Marin scouting has had these camps partially developed for years, however, Dickson pointed out, Tamarancho has had to be closed for a portion of each year because of fire hazards in the area during the dry heat of summer. Installation of a water system is one of the improvements planned.

Warden Dickson said his interest in wholesome training programs for boys stems from his many years in correctional work, which he began in 1919 at the Nebraska State School for Boys at Kearney, where he later became superintendent.

In 1922 he became active in the Kearney Boy Scout Council and he has served continuously in scouting since, a period of nearly 40 years. Since 1957, he has been a member of the long range planning committee of the Marin Boy Scout Council.

Move Starts To Revitalize Community Club In Novato

A move is under way to revitalize the Novato Community Club and put it on a more secure basis, according to John Sorenson, club president.

Three committees have been organized to draft new by-laws for the club, work with the city to get an understanding on the property of the club and its future home and to be sure the club is on a sound financial basis, Sorenson announced.

George McDaniel is chairman of the by-laws committee; Mrs. Ernestine Barnwell, of the committee to work with the city, and Robert Thomas, of the committee to audit finances.

Mrs. Barnwell's committee met Monday with City Administrator J. Julien Baget.

"I think that our committee can reach some agreement with the city on the furnishings of the community clubhouse and also get a meeting time and place," she said.

An earlier attempt by club president Sorenson to get a committment from the city council went unanswered. Mrs. Barnwell said her committee is attempting to work through the city administrator.

Working with Mrs. Barnwell are Samuel A. Hagler Jr., McDaniel, Mrs. Jerry Young and Paul Terry Jr.

McDaniel said his committee hopes to have new by-laws ready to submit to the membership in January.

On the committee with McDaniel are Christopher Collgard, Mrs. Eleanor La Franchi, Mrs. Sandra Brown and Sorenson.

School Administrators Name New President

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Richard M. Clowes, associate superintendent of public instruction in the State Department of Education, is the new president of the California Assn. of School Administrators.

Glenn E. Murdock, superintendent of the Mesa-Spring Valley School District, San Diego County, is new vice president.

The organization concluded its annual meeting here yesterday.

THERE are two ways to make a beer light. But only one way to make a beer light and not watery. That one way takes money. And Burgie spends it...spends almost twice as much as the average brewer for the one choice and costly brewing grain that makes beer naturally light. Why spend more? Because it makes today's Burgie light. And not watery. Makes it refreshing. And not wishy-washy. Try one. Try two. Try a whole bunch.

More Highway Color Is Asked For Safety

By CHAPIN A. DAY

An Oakland meat salesman, dedicated to major reduction of death and injury on the nation's highways, was in Marin this week explaining to all who would listen how he believes it can be done.

Nicholas Demetry devised the National Safety Zone and Speed Control Plan eight years ago. For the last five years he has traveled 65,000 miles in 40 states preaching its safety sermon.

As developed by Demetry, the plan calls for designation by color of various speed zones. He suggests red for 15 miles per hour, green for 25 miles per hour, yellow for 40, blue for 55 and white for 65. Center stripes down the road would be painted the color of the zone's maximum speed. Speed limit signs would be in corresponding colors.

Cars also would be equipped with a row of — five-colored lights, both front and back. Each vehicle would also have a push-button speed control. When a car entered a 25-mile zone, for example, the driver would push a green button on the dashboard. This would light the green lights front and rear and control the car so that regardless of how hard the driver pushed on the accelerator, the car would not exceed the 25-mile speed limit.

"This way no one could violate the speed law without it being obvious to everyone," Demetry points out. "If he wants to go faster than 25, he'd have to push a higher speed button, say the 40 mile per hour button. This would show a yellow light to anyone seeing the car and it would be instantly identifiable as a speeding car because the middle strip would be green."

Along with the speed regulation system Demetry would have a strict enforcement policy. "I'd forgive a driver the first time he was arrested for speeding under this plan," he he declared. "The second time, though, the judge would fine him $50, and the third time $100. That ought to slow people down."

Cost of the plan would be about $50 to $60 per car, Cornell University estimates, according to Demetry. This would more than be paid back in a few years by reduction of automobile insurance premiums, he said.

Disabled in World War II when his leg was hit by machine gun fire at the battle of Metz, Demetry receives an 80 per cent disability pension. Much of this he is spending on his safety battle.

He has been in comunication with legislators and administrators from President Eisenhower down to law-makers and officials in practically all 50 states.

At this year's session of the California Legislature, Assemblyman Nicholas C. Petris of Oakland, who at one time was legal advisor for the plan, introduced three bills to accomplish Demetry's proposals. All were referred to an interior study committee.

$15 Assessment Set For Lynwood Park

Next year's assessment for the Lynwood Park area in Novato will be $15 per house, it was decided last night by the directors of the Lynwood Park Improvement Assn.

The directors also studied but did not accept a $1,350 budget for 1962.

A committee will be named by James Law, president, to audit the books of the association, the directors voted.

Max Van Rossum Daum, Mrs. Edith Painter and Mrs. Elizabeth Miller were named to a committee to contact violators of the association's by-laws. Offenses vary from bringing horses into the area to doing auto repairing in the driveway, the directors said.

A total of $72,945,481 worth of U. S. duck stamps have been bought by hunters and collectors since the stamp program was started in 1934 to provide funds to buy wetlands for ducks and geese.

Stolen Whisky Case Sentencing Put Off

Sentencing of Isadore Biess of San Anselmo for possessing 35 cases of stolen whisky today was continued to Dec. 22 by Judge Alfonse in San Francisco Federal Court when Biess's attorney was unable to appear.

Biess, 37, an auto salesman of 760 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, was convicted Nov. 14 of receiving the whisky from Henry J. Pickette, 22, of San Francisco. Pickette was sentenced to three years in prison, to run concurrently with four years on a mail theft charge, for taking the whisky after breaking into box cars.

Elliott Leaves Post With Larkspur Planners

Larkspur lost one attorney and gained half of one last night, as Robert Elliott, who for five years has sat in on planning commission meetings, resigned his $100 a month post.

City councilmen agreed to increase the salary of Elliott's associate, City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner, to $150 a month. Gardiner, who had been getting $100, will continue to attend council meetings as in the past, and will offer assistance as needed to the planning commission, but will not attend commission meetings.

Elliott, who was present last night, said there was little need for an attorney at commission meetings, since the big load of master planning has decreased.

Attack Charge Innocent Plea

Moses Jonothan Nyagah, 25, College of Marin student from Kenya, pleaded innocent to a charge of attempted rape yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set 9:30 a.m. next Wednesday for a preliminary hearing.

Sheriff's deputies found Nyagah early Sunday parked in a car on the college campus with a 22-year-old Oakland girl. She waved at the officers and told them she had been trying to get out of the car for about an hour.

Larkspur's Recreation Commission May Resign—There's No Challenge

The Larkspur City Council last night was told that the city's recreation commission might resign en masse "if the council does not present us with a challenge," in the words of Chairman Peter Krug.

Krug appeared in person on the heels of a letter to Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug in which he made the resignation statement and told the council "they (the seven commissioners) are good people, but if things go on this way they will go just like the others before them."

Krug said actual recreation matters are handled by the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission, and all his group does at its meetings is "talk about Eastman Hall."

He pointed out that plans for a small boat harbor are in abeyance, and referred to a statement by Willis Evans of the State Fish and Game Commission that the Corte Madera Creek flood control project would raise a concrete "Chinese Wall" and possibly block off any harbor.

This fear was quickly allayed by City Manager Ronald E. Piper, who said he had talked to the Army Corps of Engineers, and received assurance that there will be no levees, concrete or otherwise, between the highway bridge and Bon Air Bridge. He was told that only widening of the creek was contemplated in this area.

Above Bon Air Bridge there will be a 200-foot settling basin which will be fenced for safety, and above College Avenue there will be concrete levees in some areas, Piper said.

Councilmen agreed to further discussion in regard to giving the recreation commissioners their desired "challenge."

In other matters, the Larkspur Council:

1. Set a public hearing for Marina Vista Assessment District for Jan. 17 at 8 p.m., and called for bids on street improvements for the district to be opened Jan. 15.
2. Heard a report from city engineer Beverly Whitlow on traffic and parking conditions along Madrone Avenue. Whitlow pointed out that eventually some of the redwood trees in the center of the street must go.
3. Voted to go ahead with a sewer survey suggested by Whitlow at a cost of between $4,000 and $5,000, mainly to determine the locations of salt water infiltration into the system.
4. Approved an ordinance amending the sales and use tax ordinance to conform with the state's change.
5. Held over action on the restauranat inspection ordinance because County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht wishes to rewrite it.
6. Voted to continue use of six 8,000-lumen mercury-vapor street lights installed on Magnolia Avenue by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. on a trial basis.
7. Accepted with regret the resignation of John Vandall from the planning commission. He cited pressure of business and inability to reconcile certain actions of the commission with his thinking.
8. Returned to committee a new grading ordinance for rewording and approval of changes suggested by City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner.

Council Won't Approve Delay On Bond Assessment

Larkspur city fathers, complaining of lack of co-operation from the developers of the Larkspur Plaza, last night refused to grant a request for a delay in delivery of a bond assessment, thereby turning the financial heat on Reedland Heights, Inc., the developers.

With the first item regarding the big Magnolia Avenue shopping center scheduled as "approval of improvement plans," city engineer Beverly Whitlow informed the council that he had just received the new plans the night before, and had had no chance to look them over.

"They set up a street, they sold bonds, and then they changed the street,' Whitlow declared "with the new street going through assessed property."

This project is going further and further, and we're still not getting the answers."

Daveler requested discussion to present a united front "against these people who can discuss things in private, while we have to do everything in public."

"I still don't know," he went on, "How they are going to develop this project—whether it's going to be a subdivision or what?"

"Discussion won't get us anywhere," Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug pointed out, "since none of us knows what the plans are."

"I've seen the plans," said Councilman Daniel Allen, but Storhaug rejoined that Allen had not seen the new plans given Whitlow on Tuesday night.

Whitlow chimed in that a meeting had been suggested to define problems of rights and facilities due the city, but that nothing further had been done about it.

Councilmen unanimously agreed to ignore the request for delay, and see what the next move on the part of Reedland Heights, Inc., would be.

Church Planning Last Service

A final Holy Communion service will be celebrated today at 7 p.m. at the First Congregational Church of San Rafael at 912 E Street.

It will be the last worship service to be conducted in the 67-year-old sanctuary. Subsequent services and activities will be held at the congregation's new church at Merrydale and North San Pedro road.

The Communion service will be conducted by Rev. Lincoln Brown Wirt, pastor.

'Russ Ordered Castro To Declare For Reds'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Cuban exile leader has told Congress that the Kremlin ordered Cuban Premier Fidel Castro to declare he always was a communist.

Dr. Jose Miro Cardona said at a Senate hearing on problems of Cuban refugees that the declaration by Castro last Friday was meant as a "deliberate challenge to the inter-American system."

Miro, who was the first premier under the Castro regime and now is a leader of Cuban exiles in this country, said yesterday that two Castro aides brought back from Moscow orders for the speech.

The hearings resumed today with a series of witnesses scheduled to testify on problems caused by the migration of Cubans to the Miami, Fla., area.

R. Norris Wilson, an official of the U.S. committee for refugees, said in a prepared statement that "every Cuban hopes to return home eventually," but many recognize that it might not be for a long time.

Miro had testified that the Cuban refugees "have but one purpose, to go back fighting. They would rather fight and die than to try and remake their lives in a friendly but foreign country."

If the refugees were moved away from the area nearest their homeland (Florida and particularly the Miami area), Miro said, "a spirit of defeatism would set in."

But another witness, Arthur H. Patten Jr. of the Dade (Miami) County commission, said the federal government should move immediately to relocate as many of the refugees as possible to other parts of Florida and elsewhere in the country.

Patten warned that resentment was growing against Latin Americans because the heavy influx of Cubans has created an employment problem.

Miro said Blas Roca and Lazara Pena returned from Russia just before Castro declared he had been a Marxist-Leninist since 1953, hiding his ideology to fool the United States and his bourgeoise followers.

The exile leader said the Castro envoys returned with orders from the Kremlin for the speech and with assurances that Russia would supply military support.

Miro said he had heard that Castro had 175 Russian MIG jet fighters and Russia is supplying all the oil he needs.

Woman, 81, Hit By Car

An 81-year-old woman living at Aldersly Danish Home suffered a fractured left leg and wrist and forehead cuts late yesterday when struck by a car near Fourth and Irwin Streets.

In "satisfactory" condition today at San Rafael General Hospital was Mathilda Johnson. The car was driven by Eileen Theresa Smith of 40 Warner Court, San Rafael, police reported.

Miss Smith told Policeman Wade Powell she had completed a turn from Irwin into Fourth and had passed the pedestrian crosswalk when she suddenly saw Mrs. Johnson in front of her. The driver was not cited.

Gas Station Owner Complains Divider Strip Hurting Business

William Buggey of Homestead beefed to the Mill Valley City Council last night over erection of a street divider in front of his service station at 679 East Blithedale Avenue which, he said, has "cut my profits in half."

Buggey expressed his displeasure; his wife, Betty Buggey, added similar comments, and W. H. Bay, representing Union Oil Co., also spoke against the barrier, which he said eliminates any left turn into the station.

The council put the matter over to Jan. 20 to allow Police Chief Dan Terzich, Planning Consultant Robert Cornish, City Engineer Stanley Bala and City Manager A. E. Almcrants to investigate.

The council told Buggey that one of the conditions Union Oil Co. agreed to before a use permit was granted was that left-hand turns into the station would be restricted should the city feel it necessary to do so. Buggey said he was ignorant of this condition.

Bay said the wording "restrict" meant, according to Webster, to "limit," not to "eliminate."

Mayor Robert D. Huber said the street is a dangerous one, especially at its turnoff into Lomita Avenue, and that the city was trying to alleviate the danger by installing the barrier, which provides a storage lane for cars going into Lomita. A similar barrier is being erected at Ashford Avenue.

Buggey told the council that yesterday the city blocked his way across Blithedale into Lomita by new barriers and that he had to go to Highway 101 to turn around.

Councilman George D. Monardo, who lives in Enchanted Knolls and was involved in a minor auto accident at the Lomita-East Blithedale intersection a few months ago, said, "he (Buggey) has a beef with Union Oil—not with us."

Buggey retorted, "I have a beef with the city council because they cut my business off."

Bay, who said he might "get up a petition," asked for a continuance.

Councilman Michael Wornum said the street is the most critical one in the city. He said the left-hand turn restriction should be applied not only to Buggey and the Mill Valley pet hospital adjacent to Buggey, but to all businessmen from Camino Alto to Ashford.

The council also:

1. Voted to approve an agreement for improvement of Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School, subject to Bala working out details with the county.
2. Referred to City Atty. Leland H. Jordan the proposed uniform food handlers' inspection ordinance, some councilman stating they favor it but do not wish the city to pay for the inspections. The chamber of commerce in a letter advocated passage of the ordinance.
3. Appointed Harold Henry to the Marin Mosquito Abatement District board.
4. Reappointed William Spencer and Robert C. Mountjoy to the planning commission.
5. Reappointed Normand Black and A. B. Costigan to the architectural advisory committee.
6. Decided to write letters to Larkspur City Council and the county board of supervisors saying Mill Valley is concerned with differences between zoning in hill areas of the county and the nearby cities and would suggest an upgrading.
7. Sent a letter to Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera urging immediate consideration on processing of flood control measures in Mill Valley and Tamalpais Valley.
8. Acknowledged a letter from Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt thanking Mill Valley police for assisting in an emergency assistance call Nov. 24.
9. Approved warrants of $31,218.

Supervisor Behr Gets Mill Valley Council Greetings

County Supervisor-elect Peter H. Behr was popular, though not present, at a meeting of the Mill Valley Council last night.

Councilmen started off their meeting by passing a resolution of congratulation to Behr, who was elected Tuesday to take the place of Supervisor J. Walter Blair, also of Mill Valley.

Mayor Robert D. Huber introduced the resolution, saying he felt congratulations to their former council colleague were in order. Behr served until April, 1960, with Huber, Joseph E. Sheeks and George Blackwell, who are still on the council.

Councilman George D. Monardo suggested the city offer its city council chambers once a month to Behr to allow him to meet with Mill Valley constituents. It was decided that this would be done if Behr requested it.

During discussion of adoption of a proposed uniform food handlers ordinance, Councilman George Blackwell asked, "why not discuss this with Mr. Behr? This is something he can get his teeth into."

Then, late in the evening, the council was asked to name a short un-named street which leads off Camino Alto into the county corporation yard and to Dill and Sederberg. The planning commission had recommended Camino Alto Court, but the council felt there would be confusion with Camino Alto.

"Couldn't we name it after someone — a former city councilman?" Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks asked.

"Behr Court?" asked Mayor Huber.

The council decided to go along with the planning commission and use Camino Alto Court.

Arkansas was admitted to the Confederacy May 18, 1861.

San Rafael Woman Complains Of Prowler

Zella Constance Dundas of 304 First Street, San Rafael, complained to police last night she saw a prowler outside her bedroom window and had been "harassed by prowlers" for the past month, usually at about 3 a.m.

She said last night's loiterer fled when he saw her observe him. Police investigated without a trace of him.

BLACKMAIL CHARGED

Council Blasted On Annex Plans

Mill Valley developer Harry H. Johnson blasted the city council last night during a discussion of a proposed sewer ordinance at which he charged the city with trying to "blackmail citizens into being annexed to the city."

Johnson, who owns 35.66 acres in the Cascade area which the city has declared it intends annexing, said the city doesn't want him to tie into the city sewage system unless he annexes.

"Why force anyone into the city by using this health thing over one's head?" he demanded. "This isn't Americanism. If someone doesn't want to join the voters in Mill Valley, why should he be forced to? . . . This is blackmail no matter how you cut it."

It set a hearing for Jan. 17 on the intention to annex the Capps-Cascade property of which Johnson's land is a part, as well as hearings on intention to annex small craft harbor property and Country Club Drive property to the city.

It introduced an ordinance on the annexation to the city of one parcel of land, called the Itse property, in Scott Highlands at the end of Glen Drive. This is to be subdivided into four lots.

Mayor Robert D. Huber told Johnson: "I feel I'm justified in protecting the interest of the treatment plant as far as citizens are concerned. If people want to stay outside and want a free ride on the people in the city, that's their business. If they want to come in, they must pay their fee."

He said that it was possible for persons to form a sanitary district to get services from the city, that Mill Valley now has four districts which it serves from its million-dollar sewage treatment plant.

"We don't want developers on the borders of our city cutting up the hillsides into 7,500-square-foot lots. In answer we have zoned this area in one and two-acre parcels," Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks told Johnson.

"No one in particular. I'm taking a hypothetical case," said Sheeks.

Johnson said he had been called by 50 irate residents asking if he planned to develop his land, which he bought from Henry D. and Samuel Meyer, into 7,500-square-foot lots. He said the land is zoned for 10,000-square-foot lots and he has no plans to develop it.

Abbey Memorial Gardens

as their eventual eternal homesite

Future generations will name Abbey of the Chimes among America's great memorials along with Forest Lawn, Lincoln Memorial and the Tomb of the Unknown Solider.

They see it being developed, phase by phase, intelligently and beautifully. Year after year they watch it become more valuable and congratulate themselves on having had the foresight of arranging for their burial estates at BEFORE-need prices.

And now . . . to accommodate growing interest, and with a mind toward accelerating the development phases of the Abbey, the board of directors has appointed additional counselors, each licensed by the State of California, to acquaint as many more Marin families as possible with their rights and benefits in setting aside memorial property under a new extremely low cost before-need program. During a limited period of time a particularly special kind of arrangement will be in effect.

Marin Is Urged To Fight To Keep In Transit Unit

"Marin County should fight to stay in the rapid transit district," said a former representative on the district board today.

Jack C. Beckett came up from his present home in Palo Alto to tell his former Marin County neighbors, through radio KTIM's weekly "Sounding Board," that they must not be disheartened by transit setbacks.

"If you had rapid transit now," he said, "I would still be living in Marin County even though my employment is in Palo Alto."

Beckett, former vice president of the rapid transit board while he was a Marin member, said the question of Golden Gate Bridge feasibility "is now where it belongs, with a group of experts."

"The question is," he said, "when these experts will come up with their answer. Will it be in time to let Marin participate in a June vote with a March deadline? Chances are not too good so this is the time to ask for a delay."

"That's very interesting," chimed in Marin Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman. "At a recent lunch I suggested just that.

"I feel they're crowding a little. These sudden elections don't work."

T. J. De Lasaux of Mill Valley, now on the transit board, agreed and said: "I've continually felt we should wait. But Alameda County has a problem of a freeway due to be handled in July and I don't know how long they can delay. It might mean great additional expense."

"You can delay a freeway and just sequester the funds," said Fusselman. "It's just a matter of contracting."

Beckett said there's "a 70 per cent chance" of withdrawal by San Mateo County and this would require time to determine a proper southern terminus, so "to me the June deadline is in jeopardy anyhow and I can't see it as reasonable."

A. J. Lamperti of San Rafael, who took Beckett's place as transit director, said that "with the problems that have arisen it seems to me the vote may have to be postponed."

He added, with reference to a Beckett suggestion that counties north of Marin also have an interest, that "eventually rapid transit could extend to Santa Rosa or even farther."

Still 'Critical'

Francis Patrick Kennedy, 20-year-old Oakland youth who survived after leaping from the Golden Gate Bridge early Sunday, remained in "critical condition at Marin General Hospital today. Hospital attendants said Kennedy "continues to improve."

'Tropic' Jury Is Now Reading Miller Novel

Pierce told the jury he and his associate, attorney Lawrence Goldberg, would show this testimony to be an "unmitigated lie."

Following the sale to Adam, Pershina was charged with knowingly selling obscene matter, arrested and freed on $525 bail pending outcome of the trial.

During cross-examination of the prosecution's first witness, the defense placed before the jury a huge poster on which was printed the new California law on obscene matter, which became effective on Sept. 15. The law, as yet untested, provides:

" 'Obscene' means that (1) to the average person, applying contemporary standards, the predominant appeal of the matter, taken as a whole, is to prurient interest, (2) i.e., a shameful or morbid interest in nudity, sex, excretion, which goes substantially beyond customary limits of candor in description or representation of such matters, and (3) is matter which is utterly without redeeming social importance."

It is generally conceded that the case hinges on part 3 of the new law, which is an addition to the law in effect before Sept. 15.

It is one of 21 cases involving "Tropic of Cancer"—which was reissued this year as a paperback—now before court in the United States. Of the 21, the Marin case is the only one being heard by a jury.

The importance of the addition was indicated by Terry L. Baum, deputy legislative counsel of California, when he recently said, "Because the language in the statute — 'is matter which is utterly without redeeming social importance' — is linked to the rest of the definition by 'and,' the statute literally seems to assume that matter can predominantly appeal to prurient interest yet have redeeming social importance, and thus be protected."

That the defense donated hard cover editions to the jury while the prosecution gave them paperback copies would indicate each side is aware of the importance of the term "social importance." The paperback edition, by its very nature, implies cheapness. The hard cover edition carries on its dust jacket testimonials to the book's importance by literary "names," such as:

Horace Gregory: " 'Tropic of Cancer' is one of the very few American novels coming out of the 1930s that is better today than when it was written and twice as much alive."

Sir Herbert Read: "One of the most significant contributions to the literature of our time."

Both the prosecution and the defense promise experts to back their viewpoints but at this time, neither side will reveal who their experts are to be.

Garety called the book, "A sordid and degrading treatment of life in general and sex in particular."

Among the defense's exhibits, however, are book reviews from literary magazines and daily newspapers praising the novel, all to be introduced as evidence.

Mrs. Van Vorhis Left Estate Of $225,000

Mrs. Clara Van Vorhis, 86, of Kentfield, who died last Friday, left an estate worth more than $225,200, according to her will filed for probate in Marin Superior Courts today.

The bulk of her holdings were in real estate scattered in various parts of the state. She left all to her two daughters, Mrs. Miriam O. Cole of Pacific Palisades and Mrs. Marjorie A. Darke of England.

Widow of Dr. James Van Vorhis, she had lived at 1043 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard for the past 22 years.

Court Date Set For Rookie Prison Guard

A rookie San Quentin Prison guard, accused of illegally transmitting a letter for an inmate, is to plead next Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court to the misdemeanor charge.

The date was set when Phillip C. Carter of Larkspur asked Judge Joseph G. Wilson yesterday for a continuance.

Carter told the Independent-Journal today he was expecting to be discharged from prison employment because of another infraction of rules. He disclosed he had a dispute with a sargeant and lieutenant at the prison a few weeks ago over an attempted escape report, but no "spite work" was involved in the affair that resulted in the misdemeanor charge against him.

"Other guards supported me and will support me," said Carter.

An earlier infraction, said Carter, led to his being discovered Tuesday night to be in possession of a letter written by a convicted murderer to A. L. Wirin, Southern California attorney.

His troubles began, Carter said, when he admired a wallet being made by one of the inmates of his section. This was last month, shortly before the 11th birthday of one of Carter's sons. He asked the inmate to notify the prison gift shop that he wanted to buy the wallet as a birthday gift for his son.

Carter said he was told prison rules forbade gift shop items being reserved for an employee. He had promised the wallet to his son, he said, so he arranged with the prisoner to "buy" it for $4 worth of cigars.

He subsequently got a second wallet from the same prisoner at the same price, Carter related.

The prisoner, who was seeking favors because he wants to be transferred to another prison, wrote a letter to Associate Warden Louis S. Nelson telling of the transactions, Carter said.

"I carried the letter to Warden Nelson myself, not knowing what was in it," he related.

"They were looking for the wallet when they called me down to the prison office Tuesday night and found the letter to Wirin."

Carter said he had agreed to mail the letter on request of another prisoner in his section —not the letter's author, Joseph Blaich, who was convicted of firing five bullets into an Oakland police inspector in 1946.

"I don't even know Blaich," said Carter.

Carter admitted also that he had taken a cream puff to an elderly prisoner who had been dreaming of a cream puff for a long time.

The 230-pound Carter, who before becoming a prison guard two months ago was a divinity student at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry, and before that was editor of a labor paper in New Mexico, said the incident of the attempted escape report occurred before the affairs of the wallets, the cream puff, and the letter.

He found a prisoner in his section with a hacksaw blade, with which the man had started to saw a cell bar, Carter said. He confiscated the blade and reported the matter. However, the prisoner was not transferred to another cell and a search made until two and one-half hours later, he declared.

The lieutenant and sergeant in charge, saying there had been an error in handling the affair. Wrote a report of "possession of contraband" and asked him to sign it, Carter declared.

"The prisoner had admitted to me he was trying to escape. He had sawed at the bar. So I refused to sign such a report, and wrote one of attempted escape," said Carter.

He said he knew he had violated rules in the wallet transactions, and expected to be fired when he learned they had been discovered.

"But it is not unusual for guards to do little favors for prisoners," he insisted. "Old timers tell me that they will leave a cigaret or something for a prisoner and he will then pick it up. Then if they are ever asked whether they have given anything to a prisoner, they can truthfully say, 'No, I never have.' "

Coleman School Pet Rat Killed

Vandalism at Coleman School, including killing of a pet white rate in a cage, was reported to San Rafael police yesterday by Principal Webster J. Smith.

Smith said someone entered a third grade classroom some time after dark Tuesday and dumped paint from the art class all over the room, including over a cage containing "Big Al," the pet rat. It was apparent that the rat had been "abused," said Policeman John Rosentangle.

Smith said a second-grade classroom was entered on Nov. 29 by someone who took the classroom flag.

Broemmel Better

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel of San Rafael was reported in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital, where he underwent surgery for a hernia on Tuesday.

HOTTEST NOVEMBER IN FORD HISTORY!
And here's what started the heat wave!

Last month more Americans bought Fords than in any November in history. The blazing success of the long Ford line was end-to-end, all across the country and up and down it, too. Everywhere the people flocked into their Ford Dealers and bought smart new Falcons and the new Falcon Squire, the glittering swift Galaxies, the famous Ford Station Wagons and the hot Thunderbirds. And they poured in to see and buy up the brand-new Fairlanes just introduced. ■ There are four magic reasons-why behind the smashing success of the long Ford line for 1962. First of all is utterly modern styling, the fresh crisp lines that are now being so widely copied by other car-makers, the smart look that dominates the industry. Second is absolute power in eleven kinds of engines, giving you anything you could want in engine options. Third is total economy—every Ford model is priced directly at your pocketbook, and every Ford, large, medium or small, gives you gasoline mileage outstanding in its class. Fourth is the service-saving concept—every Ford car is built to cut down maintenance worries and problems, with service-saving features other cars may have some day. ■ Ford leadership from Falcons to Thunderbirds is founded on trend-setting innovations . . . the hot ideas come from Ford. IN DEEP STUDY—College of Marin was studied yesterday and today by this accreditation team from the Western College Assn. Seated (from left) are Chairman H. Lynn Sheller, Sister Rose Emmanuella, and Lyle E. Gibson; standing (from left) are H. H. Semans, K. A. Tinkler, and Richard S. Nelson. (Independent-Journal photo)

Accreditation Team Looks Over College

A six-member Western College Assn. accreditation team was to wind up its examination of College of Marin this afternoon, but its findings will not be known until next spring.

The team dug into the college yesterday and today, observing and asking questions of students, administrators and faculty members. It interviewed college trustees Tuesday night after a dinner at the Woodlands Restaurant in Kentfield.

The team is composed of H. Lynn Sheller, president of Fullerton Junior College, chairman; Richard S. Nelson, supervisor for the State Department of Education; H. H. Semans, dean of instruction at Foothill College; K. A. Tinkler, counselor-instructor at Shasta College in Redding; Lyle E. Gibson, chairman of the geography division at San Francisco State College, and Sister Rose Emmanuella, dean of studies at College of Holy Names in Los Gatos.

The team held a discussion of its observations with administrators and faculty members today at 3 p.m.

"Our results will be announced by the Western College Assn. sometime next spring, probably in May," said chairman Sheller. "We (the accreditation team) will not make any public recommendation."

The reason for the delay in the announcement, said Sheller, is that the association meets twice a year, the next meeting in April. He said the report would be announced "after that meeting."

Sheller said the team report will cover the aims, philosophy and purpose of the college; curriculum; instruction; student services and activities; administration; financial support, and college facilities.

He said a college can be accredited for one to five years. He added that a college may not meet the standards of accreditation, however. College of Marin's current accreditation expires with this academic year; it applied to be re-accredited.

Yule Decoration Date Is Changed

Judging of Christmas decorations of Greenbrae homes has been changed to Dec. 21, announced Mrs. Iris Boone, decoration committee chairman. The judging had earlier been planned for Dec. 22.

Judging will be based on originality and artistic accomplishment. Decorations can be either indoor or outdoor but must be visable from the street.

Greenbrae developer Niels Schultz has donated a total of $150 in cash prizes. Other prizes of merchandise orders are being subscribed by Bon Air Shopping Center merchants.

Two of the three judges will be Mrs. James Guilder and Dr. Donald Wallace. The third has yet to be named. Also on the decorating committee are Bert Inman and H. M. Boone, the chairman's husband.

Heath Moves

Heath Land Co. has completed remodeling and moved into its new offices at 352 Miller Avenue. The move from its former location at 312 Miller Avenue was made, according to owner Kurt Heath of Mill Valley, to obtain larger office space.

Skin Divers Revive Mild Gold Fever Up In Mother Lode

Young Novice Discovers $700 In Only Few Weeks

By BILL BOYARSKI

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A 13-year-old boy spent a day watching a pair of skin divers prospecting for gold in a Sierra stream.

After asking the divers innumerable questions, he talked his dad into buying him a face mask and other gear. Within a few weeks, the youthful novice had found almost $700 in gold.

Stories like this have inspired a mild revival of gold fever in California's Mother Lode, where John Marshall's discovery of the precious metal back in 1848 started a rush that rocked the nation.

Gold-hunting skin divers have also turned up in British Columbia and Alaska, the Snake River in Wyoming and Idaho, Utah's San Juan River and the Colorado and Rio Grande rivers.

It's hard to say how many there are. It's even harder to discover how much they find.

In an excellent book on the subject—"Diving for Gold"—Keith Fuller of Sacramento tells why:

"The most successful are willing to do a lot of enthusiastic talking — but not about gold.

"One thing is certain: if you know how to look and where to look, you can and will find gold."

You may also find other things. One underwater prospector came across what may well be a souvenir of the first gold rush—a human skull with a bullet hole between the eye sockets.

Searching underwater for gold isn't a new idea. In 1904, the Huron Submarine Mining and Construction Co. began working on the upper Sacramento River in northern California. Divers went to the river bottom inside caissons and held hoses that sucked in gravel which was sifted for gold.

The Huron operation failed.

Thirteen years later, divers in cumbersome suits tried to recover gold from California's Feather and American rivers. Again they were unsuccessful.

The post-World War II skin diving craze, coming after development of the Self Contained Underwater Breathing Apparatus, has given the most recent impetus to underwater prospecting.

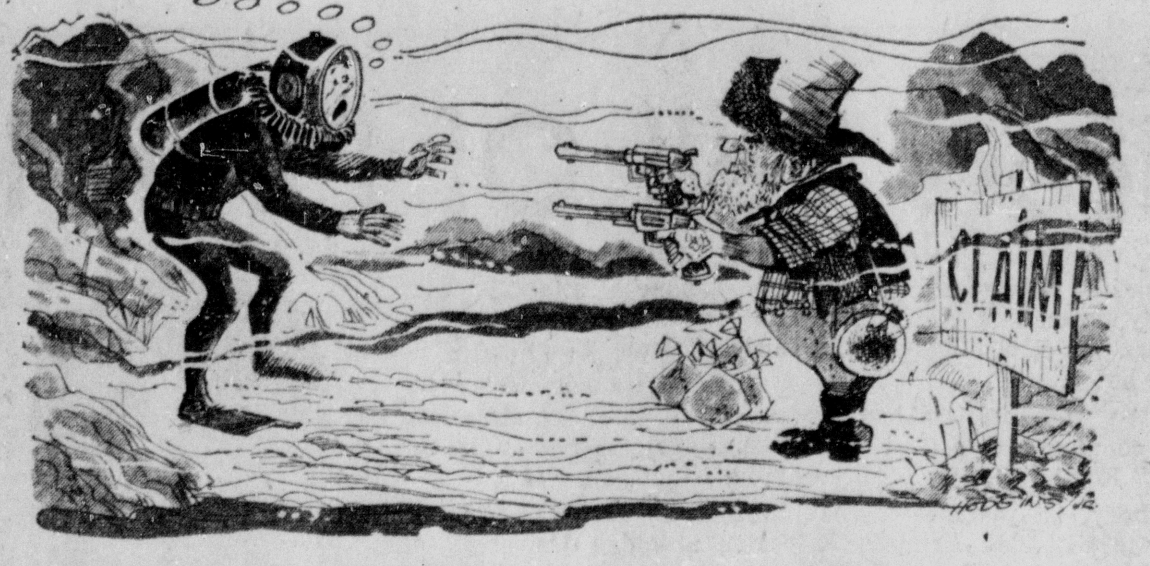
For the first time, divers could abandon the heavy lead shoes and unwieldy suits and move about with efficiency.

Early SCUBA prospectors didn't make much money. But recently, professional miners have learned to dive and some of these men are said to have recovered a substantial amount of gold.

Suppose a person decides to join in the hunt for gold at the bottom of a mountain stream. What would he need and how much would it cost?

You can buy the minimum amount of gear for about $35—a mask, snorkel, swim fins, tweezers to remove gold from crevices, a gold pan, a knife, a weight belt to hold you under water, a crevicing tool to get at gold, a knife and a sniffer which sucks in sand and gravel.

Later on you can buy an underwater breathing apparatus to stay down for prolonged periods. Divers in cold water also need rubber suits, which cost up to $65.



Biggest advantage of diving is in the amount of sand and gravel a person can reach. Divers can sift through an entire river bottom, and bring the debris to the river bank.

The principal technique used then is the same one used by miners during the gold rush: put sand, gravel and other debris in a pan and wash it. The gold, heavier than the debris, will stay at the bottom of the pan.

And today's skin diving prospector hands out the same advice as did the sun-parched '49er: This isn't an undertaking for the lazy or the careless.

MARINITES TO HEAR TEXAS GOP SENATOR

Tower's Dinner Sponsored By Republicans In Sonoma

SEN. JOHN G. TOWER
Texas Republican Speaks

Half a hundred Marin residents will go to Santa Rosa tonight to hear Sen. John G. Tower, Texas' first Republican senator since before the Civil War.

Senator Tower will speak at a dinner sponsored by Sonoma Republicans in El Rancho Motel.

Although Marin is not actively sponsoring the senator's appearance, the Sonoma County Republican Central Committee has invited Marinites to attend. Funds raised from sale of the tickets to them will be turned over to the Marin County Republican Central Committee. About 50 tickets have been sold thus far.

Senator Tower, 36, succeeded Vice President Lyndon Johnson as Texas senator. He is the only Republican ever to be elected senator by popular vote in the formerly Confederate state.

Drug Manufacturers Due More Guidance

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Spokesmen for the nation's drug manufacturers prepared today to accept some more government supervision over the 2.5 billion-dollar-a-year drug industry.

Eugene N. Beesley, chairman of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn., told a Senate subcommittee that incredible advances in drug therapy have kept alive 4.4 million Americans who would be dead if the death rate had remained at 1937 levels.

But he agreed that new drugs should not be marketed until the producer could show the Food and Drug Administration "substantial evidence" they would yield advertised results.

Industry acceptance of federal checks to determine whether new drugs work substantially as advertised would go far toward meeting a proposal by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) that the FDA be given the authority to judge "efficacy" of new drugs.

Kefauver and three other subcommittee Democrats charged in a 260-page report last summer that excessive advertising, patent monopolies on new drugs and "planned obsolescence" of some miracle drugs kept prices up.

On theb asis of these findings, Kefauver sponsored legislation to clamp stiff government controls on the nation's 1,200 drug firms. He wants compulsory licensing of all manufacturers. He also would reduce patent-holders' exclusive right to manufacture new drugs from 17 to three years.

Two Air Force Officers Tell Of Pearl Harbor Attack

By THERON A. NEWELL

At 7:55 a.m., Dec. 7, 1941, Lt. Kenneth M. Taylor and Lt. George Welch were in the officer's quarters at Wheeler Field, Territory of Hawaii, when the Japanese attacked the base.

Their planes were at Haliewa Field, an auxiliary field more than 10 miles away. Quickly they drove to their P-40s and rose to meet the Japanese attack.

Theirs were the only two United States fighter planes that got off the ground to meet the first wave of the Japanese attack.

As wave after wave of planes bombed and straffed the American installations on the island, Taylor and Welch landed refueled, got more ammunition, and took off again, they kept this up all day long.

KENNETH M. TAYLOR
He fought the attackers

Taylor's plane was hit on the ground at Wheeler Field, but he flew it anyway. He was hit once by a Japanese fighter who came at him from the rear. A shell exploded in the cockpit, wounding him on the arm and leg. Welch got that Japanese fighter. The injuries did not stop him flying that day.

Each got four Japanese planes during the day's attack.

Capt. Harold E. Kofahl and his roommate, Lt. Kenneth Sprankle, were asleep in their quarters at Hickham Field that morning. When the third bomb hit on the nearby runway, it knocked a light fixture off the ceiling.

Both men jumped out of bed and ran to the window.

"I saw this plane drop a bomb, then bank right in front of the barracks to come back and strafe the planes on the ground," Kofahl related. "I saw the two rising sun insignias on the plane wings right in front of the window. I wanted to should 'My God! The Japanese,' but not a sound came out."

He dressed and went to headquarters, taking his .45 caliber pistol with him.

As the waves of attacking planes came, headquarters personnel went into the street to watch the attack. Soon American anti-aricraft guns went into action. Falling shell fragments drove the soldiers back into the building. A bomb hit nearby, shaking the building until they were afraid it would fall. Back into the street they went. They moved back and forth between street and building for two hours.

"We were helpless because all communications had been cut," Kofahl said.

Today, 20 years after that fateful day, Col. Kenneth M. Taylor and Col. Harold E. Kofahl recalled their experiences from behind desks at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Both men had joined the Army Air Corps for the same purpose—to learn to fly. Neither had any intention of making the service a lifetime career. However, by the time the war had ended, both decided to stay in the service.

But the memories of that fateful day will never be erased from their minds.

Colonel Taylor said that all during the fighting, he kept thinking that it was only a training exercise and that he was shooting down planes that he would have to account for later.

"They did a professional job on us," he added in describing the Japanese attack. "They knew what they were there for and proceeded to do it."

Taylor said somewhere between six and 12 American planes were all that got off the ground that day.

Taylor, a native of Hominy, Okla., attended University of Oklahoma. He completed flying school earlier in 1941, and and had about 400 hours of flytime on Pearl Harbor Day.

For weeks after the initial attack, everyone on the islands got trigger happy, he said. American anti-aircraft gunners shot at everything.

"We even lost one of our own wing men who was shot down over Schofield Barracks, coming in for a landing at Wheeler Field," he said.

For their part in defending U.S. installations that day, Taylor and Welch received the Distinguished Service Cross, the first given out during World War II.

HAROLD E. KOFAHL
Grounded, he watched

Welch, his flying partner of Dec. 7, went on to become a chief test pilot for North American Aviation Co. He was killed in the final testing of the F-100, according to Taylor.

Across a chain-link fence from where Kofahl stood during the attack was Battleship Row. He could see the low-flying planes drop torpedoes into the water.

"When everything was on fire, the strangest thing happened: A rainbow appeared in a clear sky," he said.

A contingent of 10 or 12 B-17s was coming into Hickham Field as the first lap of a trip to the Philippines, Kofahl said. The Japanese intercepted them.

Some of the pilots later told him they thought it really nice of the fighter pilots to get up on a Sunday morning and come out to give them an escort into Hickham Field. Then — suddenly they were being shot down. Three were shot down at sea and several more over the islands.

After the initial atack, Air Corps Headquarters was moved to uncompleted underground headquarters at Alicmanu Crater. Kofahl moved in there. Time ceased to exist as it was dark continuously. A person worked until he dropped from exhaustion, then slept until he could continue, he said.

Kofahl was born in Fellows, a small town near Taft in Kern County. He attended Taft Junior College. He enlisted at Hamilton Field in 1937.

Many assignments have come his way since World War II, the latest being inspector general of the 28th Air Division at Hamilton. He is married and has four children.

Colonel Taylor also is married and has two children. His present assignment gives him two titles: deputy for operations and chief of staff for the 28th Norad Region.

20 YEARS AGO IN WAR AND SPORTS

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—This was 20 years ago today:

The telegraph operator sitting in the press box as the Chicago Bears played the Chicago Cardinals turned to one and there was curiosity and excitement in his voice.

"Where," he asked, "is Pearl Harbor?"

"In Hawaii, I think," was the answer. "Why?"

"The Japanese just bombed the hell out of it!"

Pro football's All-Stars included fellows like Don Hutson, Bruiser Kinard, Danny Fortmann, Sid Luckman, George McAfee, Clark Hinkle and Joe Kuharich, now the coach at Notre Dame.

It was 7:55 a.m. in Hawaii when hundreds of planes and a number of midget subs attacked the U.S. naval base.

IT WAS 1:25 p.m. EST, and the Bears were playing the Chicago Cardinals, the New York Giants faced Brooklyn and the Philadelphia Eagles were playing the Washington Redskins. Two weeks later when the Bears beat the Giants, 37-9, for the pro championship, only 13,341 were on hand at Wrigley Field.

There were 86 ships at anchor in Pearl Harbor and the battleship Arizona was a total loss.

Ted Williams, shortly to become a Marine flyer, that season had hit .406, a mark never touched since. He also was the leading home run hitter with 37 while Pete Reiser was the National League batting champion.

THE YANKEES, aided by Joe DiMaggio hitting safely in a record 56 consecutive games, had used such stars as Charley Keller, Tommy Henrich, Red Ruffing, Tiny Bonham, Spud Murphy and Bill Dickey to clobber the Brooklyn Dodgers in the world series. They still were talking about Mickey Owens' passed ball.

The battleships Oklahoma, Nevada, California and West Virginia had been severely damaged, along with three destroyers, a target ship and a mine layer.

Bud Ward had won the U.S. Amateur at Omaha despite the cheers for Pat Abbott. Craig Wood, who had finished second so many times they called him "Number Two Wood," had won the U.S. Open and Vic Ghezzi, soon to be in khaki, toppled Byron Nelson in the P.G.A. at Denver.

Damaged but later repaired were the battleships Pennsylvania, Maryland and Tennessee and the cruisers Helena, Honolulu and Raleigh.

JOE LOUIS was the heavyweight champion, Gus Lesnevich ruled the light heavyweights, Tony Zale the middleweights, Red Cochrane the welters, Lew Jenkins the lightweights, Chalky Wright the featherweights and Lou Salica the bantams.

On that savage Sunday morning the army lost 97 planes and the navy lost 80.

One week earlier Navy's football team had beaten Army, 14-6. Minnesota was the Big 10 champion and national champion. The All-American backfield included Minnesota's Bruce Smith, Stanford's Frankie Albert, Virginia's Bill Dudley and Georgia's Frank Sinkwich.

The Japanese lost 48 planes and three submarines as the Yanks fought back.

DON MEADE was the national riding champion; Whirlaway had taken the Kentucky Derby; Bobby Riggs was the national tennis champion and Maury Rose and Floyd Davis had teamed to win the Indianapolis 500 mile auto race.

The Navy lost 2,117 killed with 960 missing and 876 wounded. The Army counted 226 killed and 396 wounded.

Jimmy Brown, the current pro grid great, was three years old. Johnny Sellers, the riding champion now, was four. Heavyweight king Floyd Patterson was six; Roger Maris a mere seven; Mickey Mantle 10; U.S. Open Champion Gene Littler was 11 and Arnold Palmer was only 12.

Twenty years ago today.

MCAL CHRISTMAS TOURNEY IS UNDERWAY

Mike Diaz, center, the San Rafael Bulldogs new basketball coach, was conducting his hoopsters late this afternoon in hardwood battle with the undefeated Tamalpais Indians in the second game of the 1961 Marin County Athletic League traditional Christmas Tournament being held this year at Sir Francis Drake High. Tomorrow's triple header begins at 5:45 p.m., and Saturday, beginning at 7 p.m., the second place and championship titles will be at stake. Here with coach Diaz are Bulldogs Bret Tovani, left center, and Jack Sovereign (50). (Independent-Journal photo)

Saints Got Off To An Unsaintly Beginning By Firing Woolpert

CONNOLLY

Professional basketball in general, and discharged coach Phil Woolpert, in particular, got off to an unhealthy and rather unwise beginning in San Francisco, if one is to pay any attention to the rumors flitting about.

Management of the Saints' in my opinion, showed a shocking lack of understanding to the pro sport in its hasty decision to fire an outstanding collegiate basketball coach who hadn't been allowed to get his feet wet before he was sacked. It smacks of exploitation of a "NAME COACH."

Coach Woolpert, so I am reliably informed, had no written contract with management, only a verbal one based on a gentlemen's agreement that might not be strong enough to hold up, in case of a suit for a full season's pay.

If it wanted to be persnickety, management might say the coach was hired on a looksee basis and didn't like the look, hence the sand bag.

Woolpert certainly needed no press agent to guarantee he possessed a highly successful basketball background. He proved that long before professional basketball made its debut in these parts.

ANOTHER RUMOR whistling in my ears is that the idea of launching the American Basketball League in SF was to eventually prove San Francisco was ripe for the professional sport and then unload it to the National Basketball League for a cleanup.

I can't buy that on one account the National League, in basketball, is solidly firm like the National Football League. Hence, if it wanted to install the pro sport in S.F. all it would have to do was go ahead.

If the ABL becomes involved here, then the National League might hustle in and really show the fledgling ABL how they kicked the cage sport rather badly, and really take over with a winner.

Management always has the right to hire and fire and they can choose their own weapons. But in pro sport you just don't fire a name coach because he can't start off winning regularly.

THE USUAL procdure, in professional sports, is for management to call in a coach and tell him to change his style of play, or else. According to Woolpert, this was not done. Woolpert claims it was altogether too early to get his system perking. He knew that because he signed most of the players and was shaping his style of attack on what he eventually thought might whip itself into a winning combination.

Young George McKeon is a fine young building contractor with a love for sports and it really irks me to see him getting off to such a puzzling, or confused start. The job of a general manager is, or should be, to alert the coach of the bosses' ideas and then if the coach doesn't jerry-up, at least the general manager is away free. Was it done?

MY CONCERN with the unhappy state of affairs in pro baskeball in S.F. dates back many years, for I started the first pro league there with the late Daniel P. Maher, paint manufacturer, as its president.

Another reason for my interest in basketball dates back to the days in the early 1920s when I coached St. Ignatius, known then as the "Praying Connollys."

Out of the "Praying Connollys" came Jimmy Needles, who succeeded me as coach. And it was Needles who picked Pete Newell as his successor, and Needles who selected Phil Woolpert as the successor to Newell.

YOU COULD say that I was figuring on Woolpert continuing to use the famous "Connolly system" that proved so successful while Needles was a player and that he had Newell and Woolpert use successfully down through the years. It was a winning system as the records will show.

Now with Woolpert gone it means they'll perhaps have to take another system of attack before the sport really gets rolling.

Oakland Draft Choice Is Traded Away

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders have traded their draft rights for Arkansas speedster Lance Alworth to the San Diego Chargers.

The trade was announced yesterday that they will receive two unnamed players of "proven worth" plus at least two more of lesser stature.

General manager Wes Fry of the Raiders said the deal was made before the AFL draft last week and that Alworth had been chosen at their request.

The Raiders drafted Alworth in the second round of the AFL draft, while he was also chosen as the number one choice of the San Francisco Forty Niners of the National Football League.

RETURN OF SHOTGUN?

Waters Ready For Packers Sunday

The San Francisco 49ers will have their third quarterback, Bobby Waters, ready for action against the Green Bay Packers Sunday.

Waters, out with a knee injury since the second game with the Los Angeles Rams, worked out with the team yesterday.

At the time of Waters' injury, the Prospectors were still operating out of their Shotgun offense. One reason they junked it and went to the T was that Waters' injury left them with only two tailbacks, John Brodie and Billy Kilmer.

Thus Waters' return could mean a return to the Shotgun for San Francisco, although observers doubt that it will happen since the 49ers have been operating well out of the T and since Waters' knee would be in more jeopardy in the Shotgun formation.

But Hickey might go with the Shotgun at least part of the time Sunday.

The 49ers, in fourth place in the Western Division of the National Football League, are aiming for a second-place tie with Detroit and a chance to go to the Second Place Bowl game in Miami.

The Packers, who have already cinched the Western Division championship, aren't about to help the 49ers' cause, however, Coach Vince Lombardi said.

Lombardi said he won't know until Friday whether Paul Hornung, Ray Nitschke and Boyd Dowler will be granted weekend passes by the Army so they can play Sunday.

"We're preparing for all three," said 49ers Coach Red Hickey of Green Bay's star players who were called to military service earlier this season. "They usually get passes and I don't see why this weekend should be an exception."

Halfback Hornung has missed only one game, linebacker Nitschke has missed two and end Dowler hasn't missed any.

Two S.R. Cadets Gain High Football Honors

A San Rafael Military Academy fullback and tackle are two of only three players to be unanimous choices to the Bay Counties Athletic League All-Star, All-Conference football team for 1961.

Fullback Joe Heinz and tackle David Blaine of the academy were picked by every team and coach in the league. Center Jerry Courtney of Lick-Wilmerding School was similarly honored.

Blaine and Heinz were co-captains of the Cadets along with halfback Bill Freeman, who made the second All-Star team, and quarterback Terry Hoffman, given honorable mention.

Heinz was one of the league's leading scorers and rushers and Blaine was the most consistant lineman, and was named a Northern California lineman of the week by San Francisco newspapers. The San Rafael Military academy was runner-up in the league's final standings. The Cadets were coached by Phil Roark.

Here is a roster of the All-Star team:

Hamilton AFB Team Defends Golf Title

Lt. Col. Joseph Worthington and A2/C Anthony Lopez of Hamilton Air Force Base were members of a 28th Air Division threesome to successfully defend the team's title recently in the ninth annual Air Defense Command Golf tourney at Pebble Beach.

The trio came out of the 54-hole event with 752.

KTIM's Ted Mitchell Will Still Broadcast Events

I-J Reporter To Take Over Sports Show

Ted Mitchell, who will quit as KTIM's sports director, said today he will still do play-by-play broadcasts of Marin County athletic events for the station.

Mitchell, who has been with the station since the spring of 1954, will do his final 7:30 a.m. "Marin Sports Page" for KTIM Dec. 15. Paul Miller, Independent-Journal reporter will be Mitchell's replacement on the morning show Beginning Dec. 18.

The announcement was made by Hugh Turner, station manager.

"Mitch," as he is popularly called, said he relinquished his duties at KTIM so he could devote more time to his family and because the pressure created by maintaining the sports work, teaching and counseling was becoming too great.

Mitchell, in addition to the morning show, broadcasts everything from Little League games to Air Force football, teaches speech and counsels at Tamalpais High School, and speaks or is master of ceremonies at various athletic affairs in the Bay Area often.

The 29-year-old sportscaster graduated from Oakland Technical High School in 1950 where he played quarterback. He was also quarterback for the College of Marin Tars for two years. He graduated from San Francisco State College in 1955. He stayed active in his first athletic love, baseball, by playing in American Legion leagues.

Mitchell was commended this year by Marin Little League officials after he made editorial remarks during his morning show commentary regarding the not-so-proper demonstrations of arguing parents of a recent game. He also raised some furor at Marin Catholic High School this year by commenting that the parochial school may abandon football next year because of past performances .

Mitchell resides with his wife, Genevieve, whom he married the same year he joined KTIM, two sons, Ted Jr., 5, and Doug, 1, at 170 Humboldt Street, San Rafael.

Archie Moore Says He May Sue Somebody

UTICA, U.Y. (AP) — Archie Moore said, in effect, last night that he pulled out a scheduled bout with Canadian heavyweight champion Bob Cleroux earlier this week because the promoter wanted him to fight for less than his $50,000 guarantee.

The Moore-Cleroux fight, canceled suddenly about 12 hours before ring time Tuesday in Montreal, has resulted in the indefinite suspension of promoter Eddie Quinn and steps for a full scale investigation of the reasons behind the cancellation.

Quinn announced he did it because "the box office was sick." He had lost $25,000 and stood to lose much more if the fight was held. Cleroux's co-manager, Al Bachman, had charged that Moore ran out in the fight.

Ol' Arch, whose portion of the world light heavyweight title was not at stake, as much as admitted he was behind the cancellation last night during a stopover here.

"The fight did not come off when they started to barter to reduce my guarantee of a $50,000 appearance fee," Moore told a reporter. "I conferred with my wife and she said, 'No, make them live up to the terms of the contract.'" Quinn was not available for comment immediately.

Archie also said he was returning to Canada to explore possibilities for rescheduling the bout at a later date, or "possibly sue somebody." He did not elaborate on the possible suit.

After the cancellation, the Montreal Athletic Commission suspended Quinn indefinitely and threatened also to suspend his wrestling promoter's license. This threat was lifted yesterday when the commission said Quinn had complied with certain requirements.

Quinn has been a boxing and wrestling promoter for 22 years and was involved in the promotion of Moore's title fights a few years ago with Canada's Yvon Durelle.

He blamed the poor box office of the scheduled Moore-Cleroux fight on the big sports program in Canada last weekend that included a key hockey game, the Canadian pro-football championship game, the Grey Cup; and the Patterson-McNeeley heavyweight title bout in Toronto.

Seals Blank Vancouver

Portland's win streak stood at eight straight today as the Buckaroos — sparked by Goalie Bruce Gamble — continue to look like the team to beat in the Western Hockey League.

Portland edged Seattle, 3-2, last night before a big crowd of 6,003 fans. It was their eighteenth win in 23 starts.

Other results saw San Francisco blank Vancouver, 2-0, while the Calgary Stampeders lived up to their name with an 8-3 romp over Spokane.

At San Francisco, the Seals packed all their scoring into three minutes of the second period. Ray Cyr backhanded a shot in while Les Hunt of the Canucks was sitting out a penalty.

Then, when the Seals had a man in the penalty box, Bob Solinger captured the puck at the red line and stormed in to flick it past goalie Claude Evans.

Meanwhile, Seals goaltender Bev Bentley made 25 saves on the way to his second shutout. It was the Seals' sixth win in eight appearances at the cow palace. But on the road, San Francisco has a dismal 4-12 mark.

Mill Valley Man Re-Elected Head Of Tennis Club

Edward Murray of 30 Cornelia Avenue in Mill Valley has been re-elected president of the Golden Gate Tennis Club of San Francisco.

It will be Murray's fifth term of office during the past decade of the oldest tennis club in the state.

Murray began teaching tennis as a part-time employee of the San Francisco Recreation Department while he was attending college, and has been active in promoting the sport in the Bay Area since. He has been a resident of Marin County for the past six years and manager of the Commodore Air Service in Sausalito for the same period.

Golden Bear Is Getting A Bit Rusty

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The old Golden Bear—she ain't what she used to be.

California won over St. Mary's at Berkeley last night, but the score was only 58-57 and the defensive-minded Bears were unable to hold down the Gaels' Steve Gray, who swished 28 points.

The contest was not decided until Ed Donahue hit a free throw with 44 seconds to go. Dick Smith had 23 to lead California.

Bear fans could take heart in the fact that the starting California lineup contains three juniors and a soph, so that the Bears appear to be on the way back to the top, but they do not appear to be able to match the likes of Oregon State, Southern California or Arizona State this year off their early showings.

In a big battle at Santa Clara tonight, the Broncs host Utah State. Santa Clara has unveiled a sensational soph in Bob Garibaldi, the Utes — fresh from two tough wins over UCLA—are led by Bob Skouson, who hit 47 against the Bruins in one game. Utah State edged Idaho State 67-63 last night.

Trojans Dominate All-Coast Lineup

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Five players from University of Southern California are on the official 1961 Big Five All-Conference football team picked by coaches of the member schools.

Champion UCLA had only two men named on the first team, but UCLA had seven men on the second team, indicating that the Bruins' depth might have been the thing that brought them the title. Washington landed eight men on the first two teams.

Powerful All-America Squad Listed By UPI

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 1961 All-America college football team, a powerful squad packing even more poundage than last year's big unit, was announced today by United Press International.

Picked as the 11 best players in the nation at their position by a nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters were:

Ends: Gary Collins, Maryland and Pat Richter, Wisconsin.

Tackles: Bill Neighbors, Alabama and Merlin Olsen, Utah State.

Center: Alex Kroll, Rutgers.

Fullback: Bob Ferguson, Ohio State.

Topped by the 6-foot, 5-inch 265-pound Olsen, the line averaged a stunning 227½ pounds per man, 13 pounds more than last year's average, and including the backfield, the entire team averaged 218 pounds, four more than last year. Every man on the squad was over the 200-pound mark except scatback Saxton, who scales only 164.

There were three holdovers from last year's squad—Ferguson, Davis, and Romig — and they were among the heaviest vote-getters on the team. All told 334 writers and broadcasters throughout the country took part in the poll. Ballots were compiled on a basis of 11 points for a first-team vote and six points for a second-team vote.

Ferguson was the big winner at the polls, being mentioned on a total of 301 ballots, 90.1 per cent of those cast. The 217-pound Buckeye linecrasher, who averaged 5 yards per carry throughout his college career, was named on the first team by 277 voters and on the second by 24.

The players making up the second team were:

Center—Larry Onesti, Northwestern.

Center—Ron Hull, Ucla.

Backs—George Saimes, Michigan State; Ron Bull, Baylor; Dave Hoppmann, Iowa State; and Billy Ray Adams, Mississippi.

He announced the line-up expected to start against Bakersfield JC Saturday — and only one man is from Oklahoma. The starters from left end to right:

The highest and most spectacular single was thrown by Dottie Reiman in the Coffee Cuppers league at Greenbrae Lanes. She bowled a first game of a three-game series near her average, 175, the second game 136 and then scored a 254. The next best single was also by a woman. Vivian Gray fired a 248 game at Country Club Bowl.

In the 861 Scratch League, B. Hughes threw a 239 and in the Woodcutters League, George Wark tallied a 234. The game helped give Wark one of the highest series scores of the week, a 614, and in the Merchants League, George Finney threw a 236.

The annual American Junior Bowling Congress Christmas tournament will begin at 11 a.m. the day after Christmas at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael. It will continue at 11 a.m. Dec. 28 and 29. The tourney will be open to all bantam, junior and senior youngsters bowling in AJBC sanctioned leagues.

Plenty Of Action Still Available In Upper, Lower San Pablo Bay

STEVENS

I am puzzled. What happens to send our Bay Area anglers and anglerettes to the middle east this time of the year? Is it a carry-over from former years when on the first day of November the exodus of local anglers for the back country began?

I have noticed most of the reports I get from the south county area are of catches made in the Delta Frontier—Antioch, False River, Big Break and Frank's Tract as well as the middle and upper San Joaquin and Sacramento Rivers.

Could it be that all these folks have the erroneous idea that fishing in the lower and upper San Pablo Bay is over for the year? If so, let's put the record straight.

Fishing in the San Pablo Bay is prime right now. You can just about pick your spot and have a better than 50-50 chance of garnering a limit of striped bass. Take a look at what has happened the past few days in this region.

ALL BOATS that trolled the outgoing tide in Richardson Bay the past four days (this is being written at 5 p.m. Tuesday) have cleaned up with some mighty fine specimens of striped bass. On Monday evening, Al Donaldson and his boat the Highland Lassie took 18 bass, all of large size, in exactly 10 minutes of trolling. Tony Weber, skipper of the Cappy Ricks boat, took limits for all aboard Tuesday morning and was back in the harbor at Caruso's by 10 a.m. On Tuesday afternoon Weber trolled near buoys 2 and 4 off California City and took limits again for his party with a top fish of 15 pounds.

IT SEEMS that the outgoing tide is the best in Richardson Bay waters. Six ounce sinkers are also suggested.

The dense fogs of the past two days have kept skiff fishing restricted. But the party boats have had a field day.

I TALKED with Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia on Tuesday. He told me, "Right now, Ralph, I can't see more than 100 feet from where I'm standing." However, one hardy soul did go out and came back from the shellbanks with his limits of bass. He had a compass and knew how to use it. His name? Ken Wallman.

Fifty-five bass from keepers to 19 pounds were unloaded from 11 skiffs at Joe's place on Sunday, so it's safe to assume that you have a good chance of limiting out when the weather will permit.

Make no mistake about it, fishing is very much to the good in the upper San Pablo Bay on bait and very good, also, in the lower reaches—Richardson Bay and environs ala artificial lures.

PLEASE DON'T get the idea that because I have stressed the excellent fishing in the local bay waters, that I disparage the back country activity. As a matter of cold hard fact, fishing is almost as productive to the many who have played the lower Delta region as in the local waters. The point I am trying to make is that it is a mistake to write off the local areas.

A report from Joe Navarro of the Sportsmen's Center, Castro Valley, proves the back country is well worth the drive to get there. Here are a few of the many who made the grade on Sunday: George and Gerry Sheldon landed three bass from six to 12 pounds in Sherman Lake . . . Bob Shestek took a six and a 19 pounder in Frank's Tract . . . Fred LaVerne, Jerry Karr and Dominick Faleado fished the mouth of False River and each landed two fish from four to eight pounds . . . Johnny Raposa used sardine heads for bait and brought one 16 and one 18 pound stripper aboard his skiff from Sherman Lake . . . Joe Cruz, Al Hendricks and Carl Cunningham had six bass from five to eight pounds from Blind Point . . . Leo Keller and Harry Jarvis took limits from four to nine pounds in False River on Saturday. And Mack McIntire collected an eight pound bass and a four pound bass and 19 catfish from the Ormond Tract area of Old River.

So that's that. You can pick your area and have a mighty good chance of bringing home meat for the table.

Tax Group Mainstays Abandon Marin County

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McDougall, for many years mainstays of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn., have abandoned Marin County.

P. J. Rowland of San Anselmo, president of the taxpayers group, of which McDougall was vice president and his wife, Evelyn, a director, said the McDougalls have sold their Mill Valley home at 32 Reed Street and relocated in Santa Rosa.

McDougall, according to Rowland, will carry on a cement business in Santa Rosa and also has property in Lake County.

Rowland surmised that Mrs. McDougal, long a faithful attendant at virtually every meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and often a speaker and interrogator on subjects having to do with taxes or spending, "is likely to interest herself in Sonoma County politics."

"Their moving away will be a loss not only to the Taxpayers Assn. but to Marin County as well," said Rowland.

Marin County supervisors have frequently sought without success to obtain from the McDougalls or Rowland some statement as to total membership of the association, up-to-date list of officials, and the membership strength in support of various letters of advice sent to the board from time to time.

Tschaikovsky's 'Nutcracker' Ballet Will Be Presented By Marin Dancers

By PATRICIA ZINN

"It is just like Santa Claus to the children and I want to keep doing it," says Leona Norman who, for the third consecutive year, will direct the story of Christmas in ballet, Tschaikovsky's "Nutcracker."

Sponsored by the Bay Area Ballet for the Marin Ballet Association, Mrs. Norman, who has the Leona Norman School of Ballet in San Rafael, has been working with a cast of 60 for more than three months to present the ballet "of a child's dream of Christmas" on Dec. 16, 17 at 2:30 p.m., in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

Guest artists for the performances include Grace Doty and Ron Poindexter from the Pacific Ballet Company in San Francisco and Kathy Phillips Bartholemew, a pupil of Mrs. Norman's and former Marin Ballet scholarship winner.

Jody White, also a pupil of the San Rafael instructor, will perform in the role of the Snow Queen and advanced ballet pupils will dance in the "Waltz of the Flowers."

The "Nutcracker" story, written by Hoffmann, opens at a Christmas party where an old friend of the family brings for the little girl, Clara, what is to be her most cheished gift—a nutcracker. Her jealous brother, Franz, manages to snatch the Nutcracker from her and wound him. The next scene finds Clara stealing down the stairs to check on her wounded Nutcracker which she has placed in a cradle after all the house is sound asleep.

TALE EVOLVES

The fairy tale evolves to find her Nutcracker transformed into a Prince Charming. Taking his little friend by the hand, the Nutcracker leads her through the snowy forest into the land of the sweets which is ruled by the Sugar Plum Fairy.

The sweets dance for Clara with the familiar "Waltz of the Flowers," Chinese and Spanish dances. A new feature this year will be a scene with the mice.

IN SECOND ACT

At the palace of the Sugar Plum in the second act will be Grace Doty, Kathy Bartholomew, soloist, Christine Bachich, Diana Lahmann, Dolly Maloney and Nancy Taverna.

Also Cherry Mir, Elena Timofeeva, Mel Wong, Robert White Gregor Byankof, Kathy Sallade, Pamela Wisnia, Grace Doty, Ron Poindexter and Hildur Mahl.

JODY WHITE, a pupil of Leona Norman, will perform in the role of the Snow Queen in the Snow Forest scene from the ballet. A new feature of the ballet this year will be the scene with the Mice.

PUTTING HER wounded Nutcracker in his cradle is Denise Vivaldo, who will dance the part of Clara in the ballet. The role of her jealous little brother will be danced by Sharman Van Pelt. Guest artists in the production will be Grace Doty and Ron Poindexter of the Pacific Ballet Company of San Francisco.

Tribute To Mrs. James Wyatt

The resignation of Mrs. James Wyatt the last of November as chairman of the board of the Sausalito Library marked the end not of one era—but of several.

When Mrs. Wyatt first joined the board in April, 1918, World War I still had six months to go. In November of 1922 she became chairman of the board and served in this capacity until her resignation a week ago.

So her term in office spanned the days from ferry-boats to bridges—through the gleaming International Exposition on Treasure Island and through two more wars. Throughout these years the library under her guidance kept up, to the limit of its resources, with changing times and tastes.

Throughout this time Mrs. Wyatt has lived a full and active life in many other fields. With a beautiful soprano voice and a deep interest in music she was in earlier days a soloist in old St. Mary's Church in San Francisco. She has always been a member and staunch supporter of the Marin Music Chest, and for many years she sponsored a Sausalito musical group known as the Students' hour, which met and presented monthly programs, during most of that time in her own home.

Possessed of a strong theatrical talent, she coached and produced a long series of successful Founders' Day shows put on by the Sausalito Woman's Club.

Always an enthusiastic gardener and a great lover of nature, she was the spark-plug of a group that hiked far and wide over Marin County hills and valleys. And as an arden sportswoman she always accompanied her late husband on his fishing trips to the beautiful Rogue River in Oregon—or on deep sea expeditions after "the big ones" off the coast of Mexico.

And she has travelled widely, all over the world.

But with all these diverse activities, she never lost sight of the library and its best interests—visiting other libraries in different countries and in different parts of this country—picking up pointers and comparing them (usually to their disadvantage) with the library she loved so well at home in Sausalito.

As she now bows out of active participation in library affairs she has only one dream unrealized—to see the Sausalito Library in a building of its own.

If wishes can make that dream come true, it will. (MPS)

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Annual Christmas dinner dance of the Lagunitas Club tomorrow night will be preceded by several cocktail parties. Chairman of the black tie affair at the club is Mrs. Charles Howard (Ann) Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. are serving cocktails and hors d'oeuvres to about 40 friends at their San Anselmo home. Among these will be Messrs. and Mesdames Allan Sproul Jr., Millen Griffith Jr., Horace Hill, Benjamin Innes, Warren Wolff, Robert Danielson, Richard Erskine, Robert Elliott, A. Crawford Greene Jr., William Hendrickson, Bruce Selfridge, Richard Gatterdam and Henry Wilkins. Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Denicke of Ross are entertaining a small group of friends before the dinner dance.

GRAY OAKS, the charming old home on Winding Way, Ross, which was designed by the famous architect, Bernard Maybeck, and built for Mr. and Mrs. John Hopps in 1905, is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dore N. Schwab Jr., formerly of Dallas, Tex., who have three children, Rebecca, William and Dore.

Maybeck, who was architect for the Palace of Fine Arts at the Panama Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1915, which many admirers hope to restore soon, not only designed the Hopps' charming and spacious hillside home, but returned in 1925 to design a new wing for the house. This is an outstanding piece of architecture with cathedral windows and a huge roof overhang. The house, setting for many social events, was sold by Mrs. Hopps in 1941. It had a number of owners after that. The Schwabs, who are delighted with the house, bought it from Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Colby. Dr. Colby, a psychologist, received a grant for the study of behaviorial science at Stanford University, and he and his family are living in Los Altos.

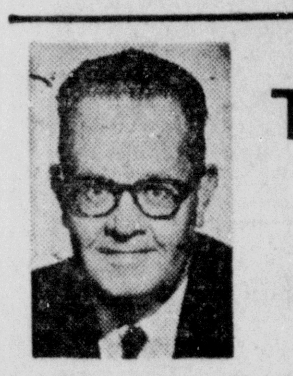
DR. AND MRS. CORWIN HINSHAW of Belvedere and their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Horton Hinshaw of Strawberry, will give their traditional Christmas party at the San Francisco Yacht Club Dec. 15 for a large number of friends, many in the medical profession. Dr. and Mrs. Corwin Hinshaw are now in Los Angeles visiting their son, William Ezra Hinshaw and his family.

DR. AND MRS. ROBERT SITKIN of Belvedere will be hosts at a Christmas cocktail party Dec. 17.

IN HAWAII for Christmas and New Year's will be Mrs. Henry Holzberg of San Rafael and her friend, Mrs. Jack Klein of Stockton. They are flying to Honolulu Thursday and will headquarter at the Hawaiian Village for three weeks.

MR. AND MRS. Samuel Whittier of San Rafael are rejoicing over the birth of their sixth grandchild. The baby, a girl, was born Wednesday at Merritt Hospital in Oakland. She is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Birkie (Connie Gardiner) of Montclair. The new arrival, whose paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hans Birkie of Oakland, has been named Brooke Carla. The baby's mother, who received a master's degree at Stanford University has been teaching at San Leandro High School. She took a leave of absence while awaiting the birth of her baby.

EN ROUTE FROM the State of Washington to Florida, is Miss Frances A. Gustafson who visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Furrer in Lynwood, Wash. and came to the Bay Area to see her brothers, Donald and Paul in San Francisco and Mill Valley. She left for Florida to spend the winter at the family home in St. Petersburg.



THE PARENTS' CORNER

Father Is Most Important Man In World To His Son

Daddy, you mean a lot to your son. You're the most important man in the world. Have you ever looked at yourself through your boy's eyes? Let's try it now.

As a baby he was close to his mama. She fed him, changed him, sang to him. She was the one who came to the rescue when he needed it. But soon he began to realize you were part of his life. By the time he was 2 he adored you. Remember how he dogged your footsteps? Remember the way he imitated you? He trusted you implicitly. You were all-powerful, and he knew it.

By the time he was 6 he was a carbon copy of you. Did you get mad and yell frequently? He did too. Did you smile a lot. He smiled. Were you kindly and considerate to those around you? He tried to be. He boasted about you to his buddies. He said you could lick their daddies, if you wanted to. He claimed you were our All-American football hero. Nothing was too good for daddy.

When he reaches 14 or 15 it will be a different story. He'll have his own ideas then. He'll crave independence. He'll criticize you. He may obey you, but his heart won't be in it. At times he'll apologize for you. He'll be uncomfortable around you.

However, by 18 the conflicts should be over. You'll accept him as an adult. He'll discover you aren't stupid after all. Part of your old camaraderie will return. Watching your big boy you'll realize he has patterned his character from the examples you set while he was little.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it true that it is harder for boys to learn to read than for girls?"

R.O.P.

(A) More boys fail at beginning reading than girls. Boys usually resist education and discipline more than girls. They are more aggressive, less willing to conform. Therefore they average out as less successful in school.

Today is Friday, Dec. 8, the 342nd day of the year with 23 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1886, the American Federation of Labor was founded at a convention in Columbus, Ohio, by delegates from 25 labor unions and organizations.

In 1940, almost 400 German planes raided London, causing the first serious damage to the British House of Commons.

In 1949, the Chinese Nationalist government moved its headquarters from the Chinese mainland to the Island of Formosa.

A thought for the day: Dutch philosopher Benedict Spinoza said: "He who would distinguish the true from the false must have an adequate idea of what is true and false."

ABAG Tackles Problems Facing Bay Governments

Last week the Association of Bay Area Governments' executive committee held its monthly meeting in San Rafael.

ABAG, as it is familiarly known, isn't well known in Marin although five of our cities, San Rafael, Larkspur, Corte Madera, Mill Valley and Sausalito, belong. The other five cities and Marin County itself do not belong; six of the nine Bay area counties and 57 of the 86 incorporated cities are members.

The organization is an attempt by regular governmental agencies to work together in attacking regional problems. It might, in effect, be called an answer to those who would put a new supergovernmental agency over all Bay Area governments.

ABAG is attacking such problems as regional planning, recreation, water pollution, air pollution, uniform standards, multipurpose districts and the like.

In short, on a voluntary basis, existing governmental units are facing up to problems larger than themselves individually, but vital to the existence of each of them.

It seems to us they are tackling these area problems from the best point of view possible, the local point of view. Instead of being men appointed to their jobs or elected from some large, impersonal district, these individuals are all locally elected and serve on ABAG as an extra-curricular duty.

We can foresee problems for ABAG in the future. But its major job right now is to get itself firmly established and accepted, particularly by all nine counties and all 86 cities. So far it is still in its infancy.

Its basic premise is good—decisions affecting all local governments should be made by those governments, not someone else.

Supervisor Leigh Shoemaker from Sonoma County put it another way: "Let's not run to the state or federal government every time we get an idea and want to do something; let's do it ourselves."

That sort of approach needs a real try. We hope our county supervisors and the councils of the other five cities take another look at ABAG. Perhaps this is something they too may be interested in joining.

Old Crisp And Suzie

Old Crip is a robin who drags one wing and flies a bit clumsily and Suzie is a one legged blue-jay. Both are bird friends of friends of ours.

They are pampered wild pets and have grown sleek and sassy from ingesting goodies which other wild birds only dream of.

Both are garden beggars and mealtime squawkers. Old Crip's friend is an outwardly unsentimental type who is constantly waging a losing battle with the sparrows in his garden. But mention means to discourage the little fellows and he says quickly, "Oh, but I couldn't do that. It might drive off Old Crip." And the matter was closed.

Suzie's mistress is concerned that Suzie might be foolish enough to go somewhere else this winter. We doubt it. Suzie's no fool. Even bird brains can recognize a good thing.

LITTLE EFFORTS BRING BIG RESULTS

How does one save enough money to buy an automobile? One woman in Lockport, N.Y., hit on the following formula.

"All you have to do is for ten years to have all your loose change—half dollars, quarters, dimes, even pennies . . . as I did," she said.

It is difficult at times to see the big value of little things in their relation to the well-being of a person, community, nation or world.

But the better we realize that great achievements are usually a multiplication of little efforts, the more attention and energy we are likely to devote to small beginnings.

Keep your vision fixed on big goals. But you will best serve God and humanity by making the most of the thousand-and-one little details that make success possible.

> "He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in that which is greater." (Luke 16:10)

Teach me, O Jesus, to appreciate that trifles make for perfection but that perfection is no trifle.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Michael Rennie Likes To Act, And Likes To Act On Hunches

NEW YORK (AP) — The man was tall, ruggedly handsome, and at the age of 26 he had decided he was the world's worst automobile salesman.

Acting on a hunch, he went into a London film company's office and said: "I want to act!"

Instead of being thrown out on his ear, the young man was given a job as an extra. Then he became a stand-in.

Now, after acting some 400 roles in movies and on stage and television, Michael Rennie is a top star in all three fields.

Rennie, an ex-Royal Air Force pilot, is a master of sauvity as an actor. In person he is cheerfully blunt and forceful, and not at all averse to expressing his opinions.

For example, he believes implicitly in trusting in one's hunches.

"Although we've intellectualized ourselves a long way," he said, "we are still animals—and animals have guiding instincts, or hunches.

"Unfortunately, we don't follow them enough. We reason too much and waver. We have lost the ability to trust in our hunches and act on them.

"I believe in first impressions. They are rarely wrong. Whenever I failed to follow a hunch in my life, usually I regretted it later."

Rennie is convinced his comparatively late start as an actor was a help rather than a handicap.

"I don't see how people much younger than 26 can portray emotions they have never experienced or characters they have never encountered," he said.

Rennie's view of Hollywood is not flattering.

"Everybody in Hollywood—from the top on down—is terrified of something. Fear is an even more prevalent emotion than sex.

Liberty Worth Fighting For

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In answer to a recent letter in your paper (No Survival in Nuclear War), I consider the writer of the article either sadly misinformed, or to be on the downgrade of her life span where the joy of living does not matter one way or the other.

I am unable to express my personal resentment toward those people who, regardless of social or political standing, so wilfully use the press not only to add more confusion to a hopeful solution, but also to freely publicize their own hopeless disposition, about which no one in his right mind could possibly be interested.

Should believers of the article in question have any objection to the press printing the more encouraging articles in behalf of survival, I, for one, consider it the right of the editor to print whatever he believes will do some good, even if it is liable to question by others.

To those who are opposed to survival preparations, I would like to remind them that there is still a Constitution in existence which gives every individual the right to choose the good or bad according to personal desires.

If a workable world government must bring about solutions for world peace, one should also keep in mind the price of such a peace. Must the handful of hopefuls by any chance also be reminded that the priceless freedom of the people outside the Iron Curtain countries should be given up without a struggle in place of a world government whose only peace formula is suppression of a free society according to the peoples' choice.

What about the masses of enslaved people whose only hope depends on the people beyond their own borders of enslavement? What about the men who fought and gave their lives to preserve our freedoms? What kind of peaceful world government could possibly come out of a leadership whose table pounding and fist waving jesters could only mean the end of all things men ever ask for?

The American heritage is based on "Give me liberty or give me death," which in other words, means that it is certainly worthwhile fighting for. I would be ashamed to disappoint my own forefathers who fought for identical principles in my mother country some 6,000 miles away from my adopted country.

To encourage the confused, I can only say that I am presently stocking my own home-made shelter with necessary survival items in spite of conflicting statements by others. And should this shelter serve as my permanent resting place, I probably would consider myself still lucky to be at home.

To those who believe as does G. Edick, I would recommend that they stop short of a shelter door should the need ever present itself; before entering to find possible refuge, in her frame of mind, I would consider myself a coward for not facing my own beliefs whatever the outcome might be.

Undemocratic To Ban Red China

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Now that the question of Red China's admission to the United Nations has finally come up for debate, I have wired President Kennedy and U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson as follows:

Urge seating of Red China in U.N. Extremely undemocratic to insist only governments agreeable to us may be represented. If we do not show faith in and keep faith with democratic methods, how can we hope to win struggle for world opinion?

Citizens Involved In War Contracts

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Oct. 28 copy of "The Nation" has brought to my attention an appalling truth: In all the states of the Union, the armaments production plants are causing their citizens to have a vested interest in war contracts and military establishments.

Maintaining and increasing this war-creating octopus has become our way of life. At least 10 per cent of all U. S. workers owe their livelihood directly or indirectly to military spending. In Los Angeles, it is estimated at 50 per cent.

Thus prosperity itself is due to preparations for war—this time a terminal war with annihilation its certain result.

Peace-loving U. S. citizens are bedeviled. They long for peace yet their livelihood depends on their preparing for war.

Meanwhile the military-industrial complex has so assumed control of our government through its ubiquitous and blatant indoctrination, that the civil authorities whom we have elected are practically powerless to do the will of the people who elected them.

We are already hamstrung unless the clamor of the people becomes a roar right now to our President—a mighty shout to halt the military putsch; to negotiate sincerely for disarmament now; and to lay down a blueprint immediately for a peacetime-economy changeover.

Unless Mr. Kenendy does this at once, we are headed for the final nuclear debacle.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A spry octogenarian with an undiminished passion for seeing his name in print cooked up the idea of a club for 80-year-olds and soon had a waiting list—not to mention five requests for interviews. No fool he, he granted the first one to town's prettiest reporter. "Is it true that all your members are past 80?" she asked. "Yes'm," he cackled happily. "All but two, that is: They're 79. We figured it would be best to have some hot, young blood in the organization."

Things were going too well in the first year Sunday school class. Nobody seemed able to recall the identity of St. Matthew. Nor did they do any better with St. Mark. Finally the teacher said hopefully, "Surely somebody will remember who Peter was?"

A small boy in the last row came to the rescue. "Teacher," he piped, "'wasn't he a wabbit?"

Salesmen For Holland Furnace Don't Wear Suede Shoes Or Sell Furnaces

Did you know none of the employees of Holland Furnace Co. (and there are thousands) wears suede shoes?

P. T. Cheff, the president of this much talked about furnace company, wrote a two-page letter to John H. Wholley of Greenbrae in answer to a letter of complaint from the Greenbrae "customer."

In Wholley's letter, he termed the employees of Holland as "suede shoe boys."

The president of the company did not like that. He wrote back in the letter that "our men do not wear suede shoes . . ." He added:

"You did not buy merely a 'furnace' at all. You bought an installed 'heating plant.' There is a vast difference." (So that's what the $1,600 bought.) "You purchased a Gasfac, which contains a furnace, a large centrifugal blower, a gas burner, electrical controls, a lot of union labor, and of course, sheet metal fittings as well."

Boy, couldn't this logic work well on the purchase of an automobile? Just imagine—we plunk down $3,000 for a new car and go outside the showroom to find a new car waiting for us. No tires, no wheels, no motor, but a car. Oh, we find out, these are accessories.

I chuckled over the slogan the of the Holland Furnace Co. letter: "Holland Furnaces Make Warm Friends."

I got an equally good chuckle over the little squib in the yellow pages of the San Francisco telephone book under Holland's listing: "Fifty years leadership in heating progress and satisfied customers."

I have been reading a lot about the "satisfied customers" in Marin County.

THERE WAS a fine message from the director of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover, in last month's copy of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin.

Hoover pointed out the need for cooperation between police departments (I feel he meant all sizes) and press, radio and television. A quote from the message:

"Not only should the enforcement executive recognize and appreciate the right of the public to be informed of police activities, but he should consider it his duty to assure that legitimate newsmen receive full and wholehearted assistance from every level of his department."

It is not uncommon for smaller—but just as important to the community—police departments to feel that newspaper reporters are "just nosey guys who get in the way of law enforcement."

We know this is not the case with most departments in the county.

YOU CAN NEVER tell what may appear on printed agendas for board meetings.

For example, at the last College of Marin trustee meeting, one of the items on the agenda was:

"The student executive council has reviewed the student dressing code. The new revision permits Bermuda shorts but draws the line at this point."

With all the nationwide clamor over the length—or unlength—of girls' dresses and showing of knees, we blink twice over this agenda item. But the "point" mentioned proved to be one of codes, not anatomy.

Or look at the minutes of the college board meeting of Oct. 26 and see under the administrators present heading:

Problem Is That China Is Divided Just As Surely As Germany Or Korea

WASHINGTON — On the question of China in the UN, the concrete problem, stripped of the hot rhetoric and big generalities, is that the Chinese civil war has never been concluded and is now in stalemate.

There are at present two Chinese governments. They are at war with each other. The mainland government with its capital in Peking is backed by the Soviet Union. The Taiwan government with its capital in Taipei is backed by the United States. Mainland China is, of course, a much bigger state than Taiwan China. But Taiwan China is a very considerable state nevertheless. In size, resources, and military power it is a bigger state than a large number of the members of the United Nations.

THE UNDENIABLE and compelling reality is that there are these two Chinese states.

There are other divided states in the world — West and East Germany, North and South Korea, North and South Vietnam. For the United Nations, the only important difference between divided Germany, divided Korea, divided Vietnam, on the one hand, and divided China, on the other, is that China before it was divided became a UN founding member.

The United Nations have always taken the position that unless other divided nations are reunited or are agreed peaceably to remain separated, they cannot come into the United Nations. There is no German, no Korean, no Vietnamese seat, but there is a Chinese seat. What to do with it is a most difficult problem.

THIS PROBLEM cannot be settled by a vote which chooses one China or the other. Last week Soviet Delegate Zorin showed with brutal candor what it would mean if the UN ousted the Nationalist government and seated the Red Chinese government in its place. Red China, he said, would then have "the right to liquidate the clique of Chiang Kai-shek both by peaceful means and through the use of force."

Thus in Zorin's view, by withdrawing recognition from the Nationalist government, the UN would be licensing the armed conquest of Taiwan by the Communist government. But as the United States is committed to the defense of Taiwan, the UN would be licensing a Chinese-American conflict. That is not good enough for a world organization devoted to the maintenance of peace.

During the existing stalemate in the civil war, there can be no solution of the Chinese question in the UN except by admitting both Chinas, or neither of them.

CHINA IS IN FACT in the same position as Germany, Korea, and Vietnam unable, because it is divided, to play its part in the United Nations.

That is the true justification for a policy of delay—to find the time and to set in motion the forces which could bring about a recognition by both Chinese states that they must co-exist.

Until and unless this can be done, it is true that the existing situation — which is a trouble-breeder all over Eastern Asia—will continue. But it is also true that the only alternative now before the UN, which is to oust Taiwan, is, as Zorin made so clear, much more dangerous.

Aware of this, it is the duty of the UN to bring its influence to bear on working out arrangements by which the two Chinese states, which had emerged from the World War and the Chinese revolution, can co-exist in peace.

Judge Butler Estate Small

Retired Marin Superior Court Judge Edward I. Butler, who died last week, left an estate worth less than $10,000, according to papers filed in the Marin County Clerk's office today.

Harold E. Geary, San Rafael pharmacist, filed a petition asking Marin Superior Court to issue him letters of administration. Geary is Judge Butler's nephew and sole survivor.

Judge Butler's estate includes $8,000 in United States savings bonds, $1,000 in Title Guaranty stocks, and a 1957 sedan.

Sausalito Man Pleads Innocent To Dope Charge

Ex-convict Paul R. Bernhardt, 30, of Sausalito, accused of forging prescriptions to get percodan (migraine headache pills), has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Harold J. Haley set 3:30 p.m. next Monday for a preliminary hearing. Bernhardt is represented by Public Defender Peter Allen Smith. He is charged with four counts of getting narcotics by fraud and misrepresentation.

Mill Valley Police Officer William Walsh, working with state narcotic agents, arrested Bernhardt last Friday. Police Chief Dan Terzich said Bernhardt is suspected of writing out more than 40 prescriptions since last August. He would dissolve the pills and inject the fluid into himself with a hypodermic needle, said Chief Terzich.

Held Securely By Seat Belt

ROCKLAND, Maine (AP)— Recently Vernon Y. Leach crash landed a light plane between two apple trees in an orchard he was spraying. He walked away, uninjured.

Two days later, he swerved his car and jammed on the brakes to avert an accident. His car flipped over onto the roof. Again Leach crawled out uninjured.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't Ever Be Satisfied When You Get Sure Thing

You can afford to play a game contract when you have an even chance to bring it home. Odds of 3 to 1 in your favor are even better. But don't be satisfied with favorable odds when you get a sure thing.

Opening lead — ♠ K

Declarer cashed the ace of hearts and then hopefully tried the king of hearts. There was an even chance that the queen would drop, he told himself, and another even chance that the diamond finesse would work. The combination gave him a 3-to-1 chance.

Down one.

SURE CONTRACT: The contract was a sure thing after the second trick. South ruffs the third spade, cashes only one high trump, and clears the king and jack of clubs out of the way. Then South leads a low trump.

Dummy has a sure entry, and South can discard two diamonds on dummy's good clubs. This costs an unimportant overtrick if the trumps happen to break 2-2, but the contract is safe.

Incidentally, West could have have done better at the second trick. When East naturally signalled with the ten of spades at the first trick, West could have led a low spade instead of the ace. East would win with the queen of spades and return a diamond. Curtains for South.

♦ A Q 5
♣ K J

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts. The hand is not quite worth a jump to three hearts. You would make the jump response if you had more solid hearts or better support for partner's suit, even if your total strength remained unchanged.

What a buy this one is for someone looking for an inexpensive, deluxe car with really low mileage. First of all its a super 88 4-Dr. sedan with hydramatic, radio, heater, power steering and brakes. We took in from local widow who put only 27,000 miles on this car. That's right—only 27,000 miles on it. Clean as a whistle throughout. You can call the lady and verify the mileage if you like but its condition will probably convince you what a buy it is.

12 Nominations For Mill Valley Chamber Filed

Twelve persons have filed nominations for four vacancies on the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce board of directors, Secretary-Manager Granville L. Beedle said today.

Ballots are being sent by mail and results are to be announced next week. Terms, starting Jan. 1, are for two years.

Nominees are Olen Bartlett, Top Hat Market; Charles F. Berlenbach, Jr., Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.; Merrold M. Campbell, Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet Co.; Milton A. Crabtree, Preston Associates Realtors; John G. Donhoff, Mill Valley Record; Charles J. Francis, Beckman and Co.; Gerald Gooch, Russell and Gooch; O. L. Greene, incumbent, Tamalpais Pet and Garden Center; Frank C. Hickman, Hickman's Chevron Service; Kenneth E. Robin, Pacific Gas and Electric Co.; Benjamin N. Sawtelle, Marin Travel Center, and Lew Tyrrell, Tyrrell's.

School District Use Mobile Classrooms

Some school boards, hard-pressed for more classroom space, have discovered that steel-framed mobile homes are a fast, low-cost solution to their problem.

Recreation Unit Seeks Back Taxes

Strawberry recreation district trustees have directed their counsel, Kennedy, Bloom and Fletcher of San Rafael, to make a claim to the board of supervisors and the county clerk's office for back taxes for about 35 parcels of property in Strawberry.

Taxes on these properties were not paid to the district for 11 years. It has been estimated the loss to the district may be $10,000. The error was discovered in September in trying to determine boundaries of the district, which is being reorganized.

Mrs. James Gowen, secretary, said this is not a claim against taxpayers and that taxes for the recreation district were never levied against these properties. It is a claim for money which the district should have received. She said taxes cannot be collected retroactively and that money is sought from the county.

Weighty Display For World Fair

The biggest bugaboo may be the weight problem. The million would weigh about 63,000 pounds—heavy enough to collapse an ordinary floor.

San Rafael Recreation Unit Yule Party Set For Dec. 18

The San Rafael Recreation Department Christmas program will be held Dec. 18, at 8 p.m. in the E Street School auditorium.

The program, to last approximately one hour, will be a variety show, announced Joseph Radota, recreation director. It will include some of the special classes offered by the department plus an added special feature, the Belrose Dance Studio pupils in "The Ugly Duckling" and a tap dance number.

Theresa Rinaldi, who heads the San Rafael High School baton twirlers, will put on a special unmber with this group. She will also lead three classes which she conducts for the recreation department in a baton routine.

Any boy or girl wishing to take part in the program should be at a rehearsal on Monday at 3:30 p.m. at E Street School auditorium, said Rodota.

There are three rivers named Dee in the British Isles, two in Scotland and one in England. None is more than 100 miles long.

LIGHTED YULE CONE IN CORTE MADERA

This cone of colored lights in the area between Highway 101 and Paradise Drive at the Corte Madera interchange has been set up by the Town of Corte Madera to provide an unusual Christmas display easily visible to those entering the community. TVA Out To Get Pesky Fern Growth

NASHVILLE (AP)—It thrives in some people's goldfish bowls, and the Tennessee Valley Authority is out to get rid of it.

It is a pesky fern-like growth called water milfoil which has moved into TVA's vast network of dams and reservoirs. TVA officials say the plant is used in goldfish bowls, later poured down the drain and eventually winds up clogging the intake screens at hydro electric plants. The small weed is even blamed for increasing the mosquito population.

Christmas Tree Permits Needed

San Rafael Fire Chief Vance Trivett announced today that written permission must be obtained from the fire department for installation of Christmas trees or decorations in public places.

The ruling applies to hotels, apartment buildings, sanitariums, hospitals, boarding homes, childrens' homes, nurseries, schools, department stores and theaters, said Trivett.

Restaurants, bars, dance halls and lobby areas of office buildings were also designated as subject to the regulation.

3.—Trees without flameproofing are permitted when (a) they are not over four feet in length, (b) the tree base is cut at an angle one inch from the bottom and maintained in water or wet sand and (c) is not displayed over 15 days.

4.—Trees must be secured from falling by wires holding them against the wall. Trees must not, either standing or falling, be in a position to block a required exit.

6.—Approved cords and lights must be used.

Drunken Driver Gets Five Days

One drunken driver was jailed for five days and four others were fined Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Luke Spencer Johnson, 47, of Building 69-13, Marin City, drew five days in jail and $276 fine for his second offense in two years. He was caught on Highway 101 on Oct. 27. He had a prior drunken driving conviction in November last year.

Vincent Dennis Kennedy, 28, of 30 Cypress Avenue, Kentfield, drew a 10-day suspended jail sentence on condition he pay $220 fine and restrict his driving for the next four months. Kennedy told the judge he does public relations work for a theater association.

Three others were each fined $166 and put on six months probation for their first offenses. They are Frank Marvin Jayne, 35, of 215 Julia Avenue, Mill Valley; James Joseph Mulvey, 46, of Long Beach, and Jean Garvin MacMillan, 41, of 3 Walnut Street, Larkspur.

Jayne was caught on Highway 101 on Nov. 29, Mulvey last Sunday, and Mrs. MacMillan on Monday.

The peanut is a native of tropical America and was cultivated by pre-Columbian Indians. Incas ground the rich, oily seeds into a form of butter.

Stinson's Tree Set Up

Stinson Beach's community Christmas tree has been set up at Calle Del Mar and Shoreline Highway and is to be lighted by tomorrow night.

The tree was donated by George Leonard, who cut it on his Stinson Beach ranch. It is the first time in three years that Stinson has had a town tree, which, when lighted, can be seen from Panoramic Highway, according to Ruth Miller, publicity chairman of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club.

Miss Miller said that at the club's meeting Wednesday the members re-elected a full staff of officers to continue for another year.

They are: Thomas R. Tawns, president; Elting C. Hubbard, vice president; Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, secretary, and Mrs. George West, treasurer.

Volcano Steam Hope Evaporates

The Hawaii Thermal Power Co. has abandoned four of its five sites where drilling started five months ago.

A spokesman for the company said cracks and lava tubes have plagued drilling and expensive tools have been lost. One site was given up after drillers hit a stream of hot water.

The remaining rig is in the puna area on the slopes of much-active Kilauea Volcano.

Neighbors Don't Like Children So They Shush And Scold Them

"Our neighbors don't like children," a mother writes. "They're mean to my small sons. The boys are 3 and 4. If they make any noise they are shushed. If they wander into someone's yard they're scolded and sent home. Is this fair? The trouble is the age of the people who live near us. They are in their 50's and 60's. Their children. They've forgotten children are grown. They've forgotten what boys are like. I try to keep my sons quiet. I want to be friendly. But I fail. Do my boys deserve such constant condemnation?"

Your sons do not deserve constant condemnation. Boys need neighbors who understand them. They need folks who will greet them with a cheery "Hi," not a scowl. What is happening may do lasting harm to them. However I can understand your neighbors. They mean well. They are elderly.

I hope you can move. Please try to. Life is too short to spend it at odds with your neighbors. Do your best to find an area where people are in your age bracket. They'll have children too. They'll understand your boys, and accept them. Your sons will have playmates.They need friends.

If you cannot move, hunt for a good nursery school. Enroll your boys in it. They'll find some buddies there, and adults who love children. Be sure you send them to a good nursery school. Many juvenile concentration camps masquerade as nurseries. Visit several places before making a choice. Then pick the best.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My neighbor is 63. She raised a son long ago. She believes that she knows all about babies. She scolds me for picking my little son up when he cries. She says I'm spoiling him. Is she right?"

Mrs. M. J. O.

(A) Disregard her advice. Instead talk with your doctor about the care you should give your baby. You can rely on what he tells you. Your neighbor's suggestions may be either good or bad.

Repending on their background and skill, Captain Balch told of the career fields for women which include photo mapping, air traffic control and warning program for air defense, flying stewardesses, accounting, finance, statistical, medical lawyers in judge advocate, personnel, administration, supply transportation, electronics, engineering, and women doctors.

She went on to tell of the provisions for women in the service as free medical services, transportation if space available, 30 days vacation, and the adult education program in which the government pays two-thirds of the tuition.

Captain Balch has been with the Air Force for 10 years, entering on a direct commission. She has served in the fields of intelligence, adult education and personnel and spent three years in administrative work in England and France.

30 Million On Toys

Staggering holiday statics: one of the nation's major toy manufacturers predicted that spending on toys alone from now to Christmas will be $30 million each day. This firm estimates that an average of $24 will be spent for each child up to the age of 14. Total sales of toys for 1961 are expected to top $2 billion for the first time.

Wool Blankets Ruled Warmest

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—Blankets of all-wool or 100 per cent acrilan acrylic or orlon acrylic stand up better through repeated launderings than fiber blends.

All-wool blankets also stay the most resilient and retain their warmth better than any other kind of blanket after washing.

These facts were turned up by a study conducted by home economists at the University of Minnesota and the South Dakota State College agricultural experiment stations and reported in the fall issue of "Minnesota Farm and Home Science."

The only drawback to wool blankets, according to the study, is that some of them shrink with progressive washings. This is not true, however, of wool blankets commercially treated against shrinkage.

Rayon blends tested, though soft and fluffy when new, were said to react poorly to laundering.

Sane Curriculum Is Needed In State, Rafferty Asserts

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Dr. Max Rafferty, widely known as "Education's most articulate conservative" and heretofore considered a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, disclaimed both at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Awareness Group in Mill Valley.

He maintained that his philosophy of education is a radical one, and instead of definitely confirming his candidacy said he would support a candidate who would answer "yes" to questions based on this philosophy.

The superintendent of the La Canada Unified School District in Southern California went on to explain that his viewpoint is radical because he has been violently opposed for many years to "progressive education."

GOING ALONG

He charged that California in particular is going along with the "education of the whole child" at the expense of "poor old subject matter, undervalued and kicked into the gutter" had failed to evolve and develop a sane curriculum for survival in the 20th century.

He said that the danger is particularly evident in the elementary curriculum, that in the junior high the curriculum has no relation to survival, and that even the high school, where academic courses have managed to survive, "is tripping down the primrose path."

Where does the responsibility lie? he asked. Not with teachers — many of whom lost jobs for not subscribing to the "watering down and pablumizing process."

The blame for the emasculation, he charged, "should be placed on the shoulders of the leaders of the profession" at the top of the caste system ranging from teachers at the bottom, through principals, experts in the county offices of education to the experts at the top in the state department of education.

Also to blame, he declared, are parents and taxpayers who have permitted "this generation of folly."

"The American people since pioneer days have belittled the scholar, glorified the sharp operator and laid on the teacher the crushing task of education until the age of 18 all levels of intelligence," he said, not to mention the totally disinterested and the criminal element that is making our schools penal institutions.

TAXPAYERS DECIDE

"Before California can get out of this era of wonderful nonsense," he went on, "it will be necessary for taxpayers to decide what they want the schools to do."

At present, he pointed out, their functions include those of penal institutions, hospitals and clinics, entertainment and even feeding and clothing. The primary concern should be, he insisted with "the dearly bought tools of intellectual supremacy."

The speaker then said that fortunately California is at last experiencing a survival revolution based on recognition of need for emphasis on subject matter and stressing of values of the American heritage.

Progress is being made, in his opinion, in such fields as grouping according to ability, assignment of home work and beginning of foreign language study in elementary grades, teaching reading to kindergarteners and subject matter requirements for credentials.

Still needing to be done, he said, are junking of the term social studies, teaching comprehensive knowledge of geography, inclusion of memorizing and drill in class work and teaching the principles of the free American enterprise system.

When standards are raised to demand the best efforts of students and teachers and they are required to pass examinations dealing with our cultural heritage—as teachers are now required to do in psychology and educational methods—then will we have education for survival, Rafferty asserted.

Railroad Asks State To Approve Trucks

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad has applied to the State Public Utilities Commission for permission to substitute trucks for rail service which formerly delivered lumber to San Rafael and points south in Marin County.

Since the fire and tunnel cave-in at Puerto Suello last July 20, the railroad has transported lumber products from the northern part of the state to Nicasio by rail. If the application is approved, trucks will be used on the entire route.

The trucks will be operated by Pacific Motor Transport, which is owned by Southern Pacific Co.

A public hearing will be set on the application, a commission spokesman said.

New San Jose Intermediate School Opening

Fourteen classes of intermediate students will be moved from Pacheco School into the new San Jose Intermediate School during the Christmas vacation, Supt. Phillip W. Schneider announced today.

This will mean an end to double sessions in the San Jose District, he said.

Intermediate and double session students will take all of their personal belongings home with them when they leave for the Christmas holiday. During the vacation, the school will move the books and equipment. The furniture for the new school is ready to go into it when it is finished in the next week or two, Schneider said.

The district will also move six classes from Meadow Park, four from Loma Verde and one from Lynwood School into the Pacheco School.

The district will also create two new classes Jan. 2. Because of the increase in the second and fourth grade enrollment, a new class in each of these grades will be started at Pacheco School.

Bus schedules have not been worked out, Schneider said, but will be ready before the end of the vacation.

Condominium Apartment Houses —And The Facts About Them

Condominium.

It still is an unfamiliar word to many, is variously taken to mean everything from a spice to an object from outer space. Some real estate brokers reckon it to be the "hottest" thing in real estate today.

Be that as it may, one of the largest groups to assemble for a Tuesday morning breakfast meeting of the Marin County Real Estate Board at King Cotton restaurant gathered this week to learn more about it from a panel of experts.

Monitored by vice president of the board Ed Ward, realtors George Kaenel and Scott Chandler of the Hai Le Kai condominium apartments who have sold 12 and recorded eight units, Gary Brown of Everglade Glen Townhouses, Bob Busse and title executive Ralph C. Croker attempted to satisfy any and all questions.

Some had to go partly unanswered, for state legislation may yet have to be passed to clarify a few of the technical points as they are interpreted through California real estate laws.

BRIEFLY, a condominium as it is coming to be known today might be described as a "three-dimensional subdivision" (vertical or horizontal) in which the occupants own the air space they live in, plus an undivided interest with their neighbors in the rest of the property — land, common easements, structural members and other improvements.

Interesting facts that did come to light in the discussion were these:

In Marin, most purchasers to date have been in their 40s or older—persons who want to own their homes instead of renting but don't want too many responsibilities of upkeep.

Most of them are paying cash or large down payments.

Banks for the most part have not committed themselves to financing condominium purchases; savings and loan associations are doing it; FHA financing has been approved for those counties where separate tax bills are rendered to the individual owners. (In Marin, Bert Broemmel has agreed to this).

INSURANCE ON the individual units is presently handled under one policy covering the entire project.

A board of governors elected by the occupants rules on matters of policy, has first option on units put up for resale —a protective device not intended to forestall sale.

Existing apartment buildings may be turned into condominiums if a subdivision is approved by the state — but an owner should consult with his tax expert first. It may not be practical.

Dan Deedy, executive manager of the board, noted that "out 70 per cent of our operating money in the county comes from taxes on residential property. Given another 10 years, condominiums may prove to be a solution for a lower tax rate."

In any event, you are bound to see more of them constructed in Marin.

LARRY BRINK of Larry Brink Motors, Inc., Mill Valley, recently received a plaque for his efforts on the American Motors Dealers Advisory Board from Roy Abernethy, executive vice president and general manager of AM. Brink was elected to the board by his fellow Rambler dealer's in the Bay Area to represent them.

Expert Explores Vital Question Of Living Things' 'Survivorship'

NEW YORK (UPI)—What a pity it is, said a scientist specializing in the life processes of vegetables, that after almost 2,000 years science still is unable to answer the question St. Paul put to the Corinthians which was: "Oh death, where is thy sting?"

Dr. A. C. Leopold, a professor of vegetable physiology at Purdue Univesity, was hinting the question was unanswerable because death whether occurring in animal or vegetable, serves a worthwhile purpose in that it permits all livng things to adapt by evolution to their environments.

He spoke of "survivorship" of animals and vegetables in a lecture at a regional meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Take "an organism such as man," he said. Up to the retirement age, the mortality rate is relatively low. After that there is "a rapid decline in survivorship.

"This type of survivorship pattern is common to many animals, and again probably to many perennial plants," he continued. "We can safely assume that there are some internal biological mechanisms which bring about decline in viability and increase in vulnerability in such populations."

Now, take nearly all the plants which are annuals. All members of their populations die at once and in unison. There are no survivors.

"The sudden and synchronous death of literally millions of individuals of the same population is an ordinary sight in the wheat fields of the plains nations or the cornfields of the midwest," he said.

"The signal for mass harikari, so to speak, for all members of these enormous populations is such a fantastically dramatic physiological event that is seems most singular that plant physiologists have not given more attention to the matter."

Since he is a specialist in vegetable life, Leopold did not presume to speak authoritatively of animal life, but he pointed out that animal life specialists consider aging and death to have only negative values. It is a means of "sloughing off the older components of populations, limiting the size of the population and removing, as in the case of man, the individuals with the most learning."

But in vegetables aging and death permits better and better adaptations to climate and weather, steps up the natural selection of the fittest (for living,) and improves the efficiency of the internal chemical processes who sum total is the phenomenon of life.

"While the mechanism controlling the more or less sudden onset of plant senescence (aging) is obscure, descriptive experiments have established that there are signals from the flowers and fruits which trigger the onset of death," he said.

"It is high time that we should understand more exactly what the physiological cause of plant senescence may be."

When science does get this understanding, it will be in position for a real try at answering St. Paul's question—if, indeed, an answer exists.

A MESSAGE TO THE COMMUNITY

The Board of Directors of the Marin Hospital District is pleased to present for your information a report on operations of Marin General Hospital. Marin General is a non-profit, publicly-owned hospital governed by an elected five-man Board of Directors. Partially constructed through 20-year district bonds being retired by tax revenue, the operation of Marin General has been entirely self-supporting from patient revenues since 1953..

In response to the county's increasing diagnostic, treatment and hospital bed requirements, the Marin Hospital District has begun an expansion program to complement our present facilities together with those offered by other hospitals in the area. Funds for this new construction were provided by voluntary private donations, federal-state grants and hospital savings.

The Governing Board, Medical and Hospital Staff and Volunteers need and greatly appreciate your continued confidence and support and pledge ourselves to offer you the best possible care at the lowest possible cost.

Wilson P. Goddard, President

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Behr Must Prove Himself To Majority Of His Constituents

With about half of the registered voters participating, Southern Marin has determined to change supervisors. It was a difficult decision for the voters. It is no small responsibility to be called upon to decide whether an elected official is representing you so inadequately as to be recalled.

We would have hoped that a larger percentage of the residents would cast ballots. But nearly 49 per cent is not a bad turnout for a special election.

J. Walter Blair found that he had lost the confidence of the majority of his constituents. Only 46 per cent of those voting felt he was doing a good enough job to continue to represent them; 54 per cent said he was not.

Peter Behr takes over Blair's vacant seat with the knowledge that he goes onto the Board of Supervisors with less than a majority of the voters behind him. He polled only 49 per cent of the total number who voted in the recall election. About 400 voters who favored recalling Blair, refused to vote for Behr. That's nearly 10 per cent of his total against no opposition. Seventy-five of the voters felt even stronger and took the trouble to write in names of other persons, rather than vote for Behr.

Thus Behr must realize he must prove himself as an able representative of his constitutents and of the people of the county. He will have ample opportunity in upcoming votes as supervisor. But we hope he will be able to make clear not only how he votes, but why.

Since the first of the year there has been an unstable, vacilating atmosphere in the supervisors' chambers, an atmosphere which has led to unrest throughout the entire governmental family. We hope this can be stabilized.

Without sacrificing economy we hope the board will be able to consider change and improvement. Without establishing blocs, we hope all the supervisors will work together for the good of the county. Without personal rancor, we hope these five men will established communication with each other which will result in the best possible government for Marin.

And this would be greatly aided if bitter partisan claims and charges, released in the heat of the campaign, can now be forgotten. Continuation of the battle now can only harm all Marin.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

DEATH IS WHAT WE MAKE IT

Death remains much in the background of our day-to-day thoughts although each man, woman and child must eventually face its harsh reality.

Back in the 5th century, the great Augustine made the following comment on this universal fate of mankind.

"No sooner do we begin to live in this mortal body, than we begin to move, without arrest, toward death . . .

"Death is good to the good, and evil to the evil. For the spirits of the just are at rest; but those of the wicked suffer punishment till their bodies rise again—those of the just to life everlasting, and of the others to death eternal, which is called the second death."

Each thought, word and act of our will someday be judged by a merciful and just God. Live today and every day in a manner that will be pleasing in His sight and promote the welfare of all men.

"And just as it is appointed unto men to die once, and after this comes the judgment." (Hebrews 9:27)

Let me view the end of life, O Christ, as a door to eternal happiness with you, and act accordingly.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Mrs. Roosevelt Takes Look Back To The Attack On Pearl Harbor

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty years after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt still has vivid memories of that fateful day that changed the world.

She had just finished lunching with guests in the White House when an usher informed her of the Japanese surprise attack. The president was upstairs alone in his study.

"Cabinet members and staff officers began arriving," recalled Mrs. Roosevelt.

"Just before dinner I got in to speak to Franklin," she said. "He was very tired, but on the whole very calm—and chiefly interested in what he was going to do next.

"Tired as he looked, I could feel the certainty was easier for him to accept than the uncertainty before. It is always easier when you know what you face, and can make plans, than to have to live with uncertainty."

At 77, widowed 16 years now, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt still meets the uncertainties of this world with grace and charm and courage and an unfailing cheerfulness.

In her East Side apartment she said: "I try to cut down on my schedule, but I don't seem to be able to do much about it."

She still makes four or five public appearances a week, writes a thrice-weekly newspaper column, a monthly magazine column, and freely gives of her time to scores who come to her for advice or comfort.

"I've never thought through a personal philosophy of my own. I'm one of those who live pretty much day by day and meet the opportunities that come to them.

"Life is the acquisition of experience and the ability to face realities and accept them.

"What troubles most people is the almost automatic clinging to things that are known, and not being excited by the things that are unknown. This brings about a fear to face change in a constantly changing world.

"THE YOUNGER generation? Frequently their biggest problem isn't themselves but their parents. I think the present young generation is better informed and more serious than the previous two or three generations were.

"No, I wouldn't want to be young again myself. I am satisfied with the period in which I lived. When you are young you have many unsatisfied ambitions, but I have none now."

ASKED IF SHE had any regrets or ever brooded over the past, Mrs. Roosevelt smiled, and shook her head. Her blue eyes looked over at a small statue near the window of the famed winged victory of Samothrace—her personal symbol of timeless courage and endurance.

"The thing I am most grateful for," she said, "is for an interesting life—and the opportunities I had to learn along the way."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Highway Dividers End Carnage

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

One wonders how much is paid out annually by the insurance companies (us policy holders) for automobiles demolished by over-the-center-line collisions.

We venture to guess that this amount of money could buy the mileage of steel bumper ribbon needed to divide the highway and thus eliminate the weekly carnage.

Where People For Peace Stand

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I was present at a meeting reported in your newspaper of Dec. 1 of the pro-shelter Terra Linda group. I wish to take this opportunity to explain more fully the position of People For Peace, a group opposed to shelters, which was touched on only briefly at this meeting in conversation with Supervisor William Fusselman and therefore only briefly in your account of that meeting.

People For Peace is an organization made up of responsible citizens residing in the Dixie School District. We are opposed to the construction of fallout shelters because we believe such a program is a negative approach to a very serious problem.

A child who is frightened will pull his bed covers over his head. It is his belief and hope that if he can't see the danger, the danger will not see him and therefore will go away. But adults know that this is not so. One doesn't hide from his fears and/or his enemies, because a mature adult realizes that one can run only so far or, in the case of shelters, dig only so deep.

Wtih this in mind, we have formed a group for positive action. We are educating ourselves to the realities of today and are informing ourselves of the words of the outstanding men of state and letters on these problems and their solutions.

We call ourselves People For Peace. Our name is questioned by some who ask, "Aren't we all for peace?"

We agree that we may all be for peace, but we believe that fallout shelters could eventually lead to war. We believe that people who advocate shelters, sincere as they may be in their belief that they are building for peace, actually are building for war. We believe that shelters have the built-in illusion of survival in a thermonuclear war and therefore make the thought of such a war less unacceptable than it would be if the thought of such a war were faced without this illusion. Furthermore, we believe that the construction of shelters would entail the unwise expenditure of energies and resources that otherwise could be devoted to positive action toward peace.

We are convinced that people of different beliefs can co-exist. Therefore, we are convinced that war is not inevitable. But we believe we can only realize the goal of living together in peace by treating all people as we treat ourselves. We feel that only when Man learns to discuss his differences across a conference table without resorting to the use of threats (whether it be by words, or by the continued building up of a defense program) can we realize permanent peace.

People For Peace advocates a positive program to peace—the achievement of world disarmament and a more powerful United Nations.

Let's Ban Bomb Shelters

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Perhaps a more impressive plan might be to ban the bomb shelter rather than banning the bomb.

Mankind might then be forced to elect the more noble and lasting means of survival and peace might become the necessity, not the luxury. Perhaps even attractive. Perhaps—

Don't Assist China Overlords

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the name of humanitarianism, reader Mrs. Milen Dempster requests that we send our surplus wheat to feed the millions of starving Chinese in Red China.

I am afraid that reader Dempster has mistaken the Chinese people for the Red China Communist government. They are in no way the same thing.

The Communist government in China has done everything it can to reduce the Chinese people to a nation of slaves. This government cares so little for its people that in the face of imminent starvation, it sent its own wheat harvest to Cuba, to Yugoslavia, and even to Russia in exchange for arms.

If we do as reader Dempster suggests, send our surpluses to China, who will receive it? The government, of course. Where will it go? To trade for more arms; or if some of it does trickle down to the people, the aid will be given in the name of the Communist government as proof that Communism is a success, a propaganda tool to further enslave the Chinese and other Asiatic peoples. The Communists would be fools to use it any other way, and they are far from foolish.

We are the fools if we think that relief to China will benefit the Chinese people in any way. It will only serve to support and perpetuate their, and our, mortal enemy. Don't betray them by aiding their overlords.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A solemn youngster with a fantastically high I.Q. keeps asking his socialite mother questions she can't answer—but to keep him quiet, she must give some sort of reply—so she makes things up as she goes along. "Invention," she sighs, "is the necessity of Mother."

The dam had burst on a tributary of the Missouri River and the countryside was flooded. A reporter from a Keokuk newspaper called up Farmer Coggins to see how things were going on his riverside acres. "Well," said Farmer Coggins cautiously, "I gotta tell you we're bobbing for apples over here—and it ain't Halloween."

Gypsy Rose Lee would have you believe that this is how she embarked upon her career as a stripper: "I was trying out for a singing role in a musical comedy. I sang my heart out, in fact. When I had finished, a brute of a director said, "Well, don't just stand there, young lady. Undo something!"

All About Highway Patrolmen, Jazz Pianist, Jury At Marin Trial

More than one record was set last Sunday when Francis Kennedy, a 20-year-old Oakland youth, jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge and lived to tell about it.

On the same day, a police officer declined to have his picture taken pointing to the spot where he had found the victim.

Kennedy was, after all, the second person to make the jump and pull through. But to California Highway Patrolman Theodore McGuire goes, I am sure, the uncontested distinction of being the first law officer ever to tell a news photographer he was "too tired" to pose for his picture.

I hasten to add that, in my experience, no such claim to fame can be made by any politician, school superintendent, fire chief, mortician, TV actress or Chamber of Commerce president.

CONGRATULATIONS are also in order, somewhat belatedly, to Max Horowitz, "The Colonel" of The Colonel's Ranch Wagon near Mill Valley, for bringing culture to the county in the form of Ralph Sutton, one of the country's great jazz pianists.

Sutton, heard at the recent Monterey Jazz Festival, has played in most of the best night spots from Marin to New York. The list of big names he has played with, solo and in combo, is endless.

A Forest Knolls resident, Sutton says he is more than happy with his Ranch Wagon engagement. "It's a wonderful substitute for New York summers and winters," he said the other night. Unfortunately, for a man who can pack a hall by sounding "A" in New York, the crowds at the Ranch Wagon seem somewhat thin.

ON THE OPENING day of the "Tropic of Cancer" trial, Roger Garety, Marin's district attorney prosecuting the case, was asking prospective jurors as to the size of their families, among other questions.

Most answered with such replies as "I have a wife, a mother and three children," depending on the number of persons living in their household.

When Garety asked the question of Walter H. Ehlers of Corte Madera, Ehlers said, "I have one wife."

Basic black with pearls are said to be a fashion phobia of Count Marco, San Francisco Chronicle women's section columnist.

It is also said that Juanita Musson, Sausalito cafe owner, showed up at a ferryboat party the other night with Marco. Juanita is well known to wear muu-muus.

It is said that Juanita, her hand on the County's arm, was wearing basic black and pearls. The dress was a black muu-muu.

Everything Points To Another U-2 Incident To Ease Pressure On Reds

WASHINGTON—The United States and NATO are strengthening the defense of the West to meet any military eventuality over Berlin.

That's good. But are we preparing ourselves adequately to meet any diplomatic eventuality over Berlin?

I raise this question because the diplomatic storm signals are becoming visible. The way the Soviets are behaving themselves, we may soon be dealing with the 1962 equivalent of Khrushchev's 1960 "U-2" tactics of smashing all efforts at constructive negotiation.

There is a close parallel between the abortive Paris summit and what we are witnessing today. Recall these events:

IN LATE 1959 there were exploratory talks between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev at Camp David which both characterized as useful.

As a result of these talks Mr. K removed the deadline he had set on his Soviet-East German treaty and shortly thereafter arrangements were made for the Paris summit.

But as the date for the summit drew nearer, it became evident that the U. S., France, and Britain were not going to give in to the Kremlin on West Berlin. Whereupon Khrushchev seized upon the U-2 flights, which he knew had been going on for several years, as a pretext to wreck the summit conference.

AND THE PARALLEL today? Consider the following:

There have been exploratory talks between Secretary Rusk and Foreign Minister Gromyko in New York, which both characterized as useful and which appeared to leave several doors open for further negotiation.

Shortly after these talks, Khrushchev again removed the deadline he had set on his Soviet-East German treaty.

We are ready to negotiate over Berlin if the Soviets show "reasonableness." But it is increasingly evident that the West does not intend to yield its rights in West Berlin and that, diplomatically, we are on a "collision" course.

Unless the Soviets actually want the collision, they are going to have to do something to avert it. Since we are not asking the Soviets for anything, there is no point at which we can step back without conceding vital Western rights.

In light of these circumstances, it seems increasingly clear that we had better be prepared for another version of the "U-2" tactic by which the Soviets will almost lead up to serious negotiation and then find a way to call it off with a great, big bang.

THERE IS additional evidence for this conclusion. The events of the 22nd Party Congress in Moscow constitute both a minus as well as a plus for Khrushchev. He succeeded in strengthening his grip on the party machinery at home. But he failed to align the Communist parties around the world behind Soviet leadership. The Soviet Union is no longer the unchallenged leader of the Communist bloc.

Disunity within the Communist bloc is increasing. The Soviets are pressuring little Finland. At Geneva they are successfully avoiding any serious negotiation over a nuclear test ban. In New York last week Soviet U. N. Ambassador Zorin stormed out of a dinner at which Vice President Johnson was presuming to suggest a few points of Western strength.

It looks to me as though a "U-3" is in the making.

$1 Million In Property Taxes Expected Per Day In Marin

Marin County property tax payments are expected to pour into the county coffers at a rate of better than one million dollars per day between now and the Monday deadline.

"We expect about six million dollars to come in during the next five days," County Tax Collector M. F. Donohue reported today. Deadline for payment of the first installment taxes is 5 p.m. Monday. A six per cent penalty will be imposed on first installment taxes paid after that.

Donohue said he keeps a night crew on duty to take care of the heavy mail that is arriving daily.

He said work by his staff is slowed up because so many taxpayers wait until they pay taxes to ask why the taxes are higher.

Huxley Lecture Crowd Expected

A capacity crowd is expected for the lecture by Aldous L. Huxley, English novelist, to- L. Huxley, English novelist, today at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall on the College of Marin Kentfield campus, said Irwin P. Diamond, who is in charge of the lecture series.

"Tickets will be honored up to 7:45," said Diamond. "After that, non-ticket holders will be admitted as long as there is seating available."

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Dec. 7, the 341st day of the year with 24 to follow in 1961.

The moon is in its new phase.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1787, Delaware became the first state to ratify the United States Constitution.

In 1808, James Madison was elected president.

In 1917, soldiers of the 42nd or "Rainbow" Division of the U. S. Army arrived in France.

In 1941, Japan struck suddenly in the Pacific while her envoys were negotiating with the State Department in Washington. Japanese forces took a heavy toll at Pearl Harbor, the Philippines, Wake and Guam Islands.

A thought for the day: Before leaving Corregidor Gen. Douglas MacArthur said: "The president of the United States has ordered me to break through the Japanese lines and proceed from Corregidor to Australia. I came through and I shall return."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Time To Bet On Horse When You Know Winner

The time to bet on a horse is when he is going to win. This simple rule would save a great deal of money, if horseplayers would only follow it. I don't have time right now to show how it works with horses, but here's how it works with a bridge hand.

1 ♢	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ 4

West leads the four of hearts, and dummy's queen wins the first trick. You feel a bit better about your contract, and now you must decide whether to go after the diamonds or the clubs to make your contract.

HOW TO TELL: How do you know in advance that the diamonds are sour and the clubs as sweet as honey? You can find out without risk.

After cashing the king of diamonds at the second trick, follow with the ace of diamonds. If both opponents follow, you can give up one diamond and make the contract with four diamonds, one spade, two hearts and two clubs.

If West has four diamonds, you can get to your hand in clubs to lead a diamond toward dummy's jack. If East has four diamonds, you discover the bad break and try the club finesse instead of continuing with diamonds.

As I said, tackle a suit when it is going to break. And now, I'll leave it to you to work out this simple rule for horses and the stock market. I've done my share.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ Q 9 7 4 2
♥ K J 9 4 3
♦ 6
♣ 10 9

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. Unless partner raises spades you intend to show the hearts next. It's all right to bid hearts first when you have two four-card suits, but bid the suits in ranking order when you have two five-card suits.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

CHRISTMAS BELLS IN LARKSPUR

Christmas Business News Leans Toward Jolly Side

NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas spirit must be inspiring both the business statisticians and the business soothsayers. The news leans heavily today to the jolly side. The predictions, as you might guess, are even cheerier.

Most official figures pouring out of government agencies and industry's haunts plot an upward trend in business activity. Many sight records in the making for December — such as in retail sales volume. Most of the rest chart the emergency from the early fall lull and resumption of the advance in industrial output and orders.

The soothsayers go farther. One group of business economists reporting to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce sees 1962 setting records in production, income and profits.

Steel orders finally have begun to mount — perhaps to build up stocks in the first half of 1962 as a hedge against a possible steel strike in the summer. Mills are beginning to plan increased output. This has been holding close to 70 per cent of capacity for some time, but some say it could soon rise to 80 per cent.

Auto retail sales have perked up. And some think output this month could top last December by 20 per cent or more.

One tip here is that consumer debt has begun to rise, with most of the increase in instalment credit in auto paper. The latest reported gain is the biggest in almost a year.

Spending on construction, both current and planned, has begun to rise. The Department of Commerce is particularly impressed by the outlook for home building. It estimates 1.3 million private housing units will have been started this year by New Year's Eve. And it thinks that next year another 1.4 million will be going up. Public housing is put at 50,000 units this year and 55,000 next.

Business spending for new plants and equipment also is expected to rise next year. Higher costs will account for some of the increase. But if output and profits advance as some hope, the physical volume of construction will be up, too.

At the consumer level, economists note with joy that sales volume is on the increase. The latest weekly figure on department store sales show them 6 per cent above the like week of 1960.

Predictions of total Christmas sales this year run 4 to 6 per cent ahead of last year. Shoppers are reported buying carefully but not pinching pennies when they find what they want.

The money managers are seeing to it that the banks have plenty of reserves for financing Christmas trade and for making loans when and if industrialists want them for expanding activity.

And the economists have their own source of comfort. Despite all the optimism that has bubbled up of late, there's no sign yet of a runaway boom psychology that could be dangerous. Purchasing agents report ordering is still being held within realistic bounds. Expansion plans are being tailored close to reasonable expectations of industrial demand.

What a buy this one is for someone looking for an inexpensive, deluxe car with really low mileage. First of all its a super 88 4-Dr. sedan with hydramatic, radio, heater, power steering and brakes. We took in from local widow who put only 27,000 miles on this car. That's right—only 27,000 miles on it. Clean as a whistle throughout. Reserve Aides To Visit College

Representatives of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, the Coast Guard Academy and the Marine Corps Reserve will visit College of Marin campus to explain officer training programs open to junior college students.

On Dec. 8, opportunities available with the Marines will be explained by Marine Capt. A. Parchen. On Dec. 21, Capt. W. C. Thurmond will talk about eligibility for appointment to the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn.

Archaeology Survey Set On Bodega

Archaeologists will make a survey of property on Bodega Head, Sonoma County, where the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. plans to build an atomic power plant.

PG&E President N. R. Sutherland reported yesterday in San Francisco that Western Heritage, Inc., archaeological consultants, has been retained to make the investigation.

Particular attention will be directed to Campbell Cove, where the power plant's intake structure eventually will be located, and to the bluff above Campbell Cove.

Adobe ruins located on the property will be left undisturbed by the survey. Historians and archaeologists have speculated that the ruins may be the remains of a Russian fort, possibly built near the end of the 18th Century.

The ruins are located outside the contemplated construction zone. Sutherland said the company has been advised that these should be left alone as long as it is unnecessary to disturb them, because techniques of excavation improve steadily.

Mill Valley Plans Unit Asks Draft Of Hill Areas

The Mill Valley Planning Commission requested planning consultant Robert Cornish Tuesday night to begin work on a draft of a planned residential zone for undeveloped hill areas within the city limits.

Land, now classified in an interim zoning, is single family residential and varies from 20,000 square-foot lots to two and one-half acre parcels.

The zone, said Cornish, will be designed to provide greater planning flexibility and also designate overall density. Cornish is to work with property owners. Two took part in the discussion: Ernest Friberg, representing Marin Capital Co. with land on Corte Madera Ridge, and an agent for the Silverberg property which is on the east side of the Municipal Golf Course.

'Battle Of The Books' Helps Win KPIX Award

"Battle of the Books," a public affairs program dealing with the controversy concerning books in Marin County school libraries, has helped television station KPIX earn the California Teachers Assn. John Swett Award for 1961.

The award is made on the basis of a program or program series that best interprets school projects or educational issues.

KPIX was nominated by the Tamalpais School District Teachers Assn., which cited the "Battle of the Books" show and a second program, "Space at a Premium," dealing with school bond issues in more than 30 Bay Area communities.

SWEETHEARTS AFTER 50 YEARS—Lewis G. Pepper of Bolinas plants a kiss on cheek of wife, Marin, at golden wedding celebration at Harrah's Tahoe Club. Best part of the celebration, said Mrs. Pepper, was that Liberace was playing at the club.

Golden Wedding Is Highlighted By Lake Tahoe Visit

Dining to the music of Liberace was the highlight of the recent golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Lefis G. Pepper of Bolinas.

Planned by their sons and daughters as a surprise, the celebration took place at Harrah's Tahoe Club. Mrs. Pepper said she and her husband did a little gambling, but "the most wonderful thing was that Liberace happened to be playing at the time of our visit. One couldn't ask for a more wonderful thing. He plays jazz magnificently and his Chopin is out of this world."

The Peppers were married on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 30, in 1911 at St. Paul's Church in Sacramento. At that time Mrs. Pepper was living in Nevada.

She said the dinner was attended by about 20, one-half of her family and some friends.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pepper were born in Bolinas, Mrs. Pepper being named Marin after the county. Pepper still is active as a Bolinas contractor with the firm of Lewis Pepper and Sons.

Asked about the secret of a successful marriage, Mrs. Pepper declared "loyalty and love" is the explanation.

Labor Union Election Told

A change in the by-laws cutting the executive board of the Plasterers and Cement Masons Local 355 from five to four members put only one office at stake in the union's election held Monday night.

Incumbents in all other offices were reelected without opposition. They are: Lorenzo O'Connor, president; C. S. Jones, vice president; N. C. Green, financial secretary-business representative; and trustees Adolph Pedroli and Frank Weber.

Four of the five incumbent executive board members returned to office were W. K. Davis, C. S. Jones, Adolph Pedroli and Robert Peterson. Failing in a bid for reelection was Frank Bertoni.

Pitbull Case Is Going To Trial Jan. 3

When the Marinwood pitbull case comes to trial on Jan. 3, one of the defenses will be that dogs trained for boar hunting will not fight other dogs.

This was indicated Monday by attorney William O. Weissich, who is defending rancher Joseph Sequeira, his son, George, and his nephew, Clem Sequeira. The three are accused of allowing pitbulls to fight and kill stray dogs thrown into a barn with the trained bulls.

Weissich appeared before Judge Harold J. Haley Monday and asked for permission to have the pitbulls released from the Marin County Humane Society pound and allowed to hunt boar in the Healdsburg area. Weissich said he wants to show the dogs are trained to hunt boar, and he has experts who says that hunting dogs are not fighting dogs.

Shop Lifting Suspect Lands In County Jail

Victor Esterich, 40, of La Mirada in Southern California was placed in county jail Tuesday afternoon after he was caught taking a can of wax from the Mill Valley Food Mart at 238 East Blithedale Avenue.

Owner Lee Johnson reported to police that Esterich had taken the wax, valued at $2:25, at 2:30 p.m. Esterich was charged with petty theft and freed on bail of $262.

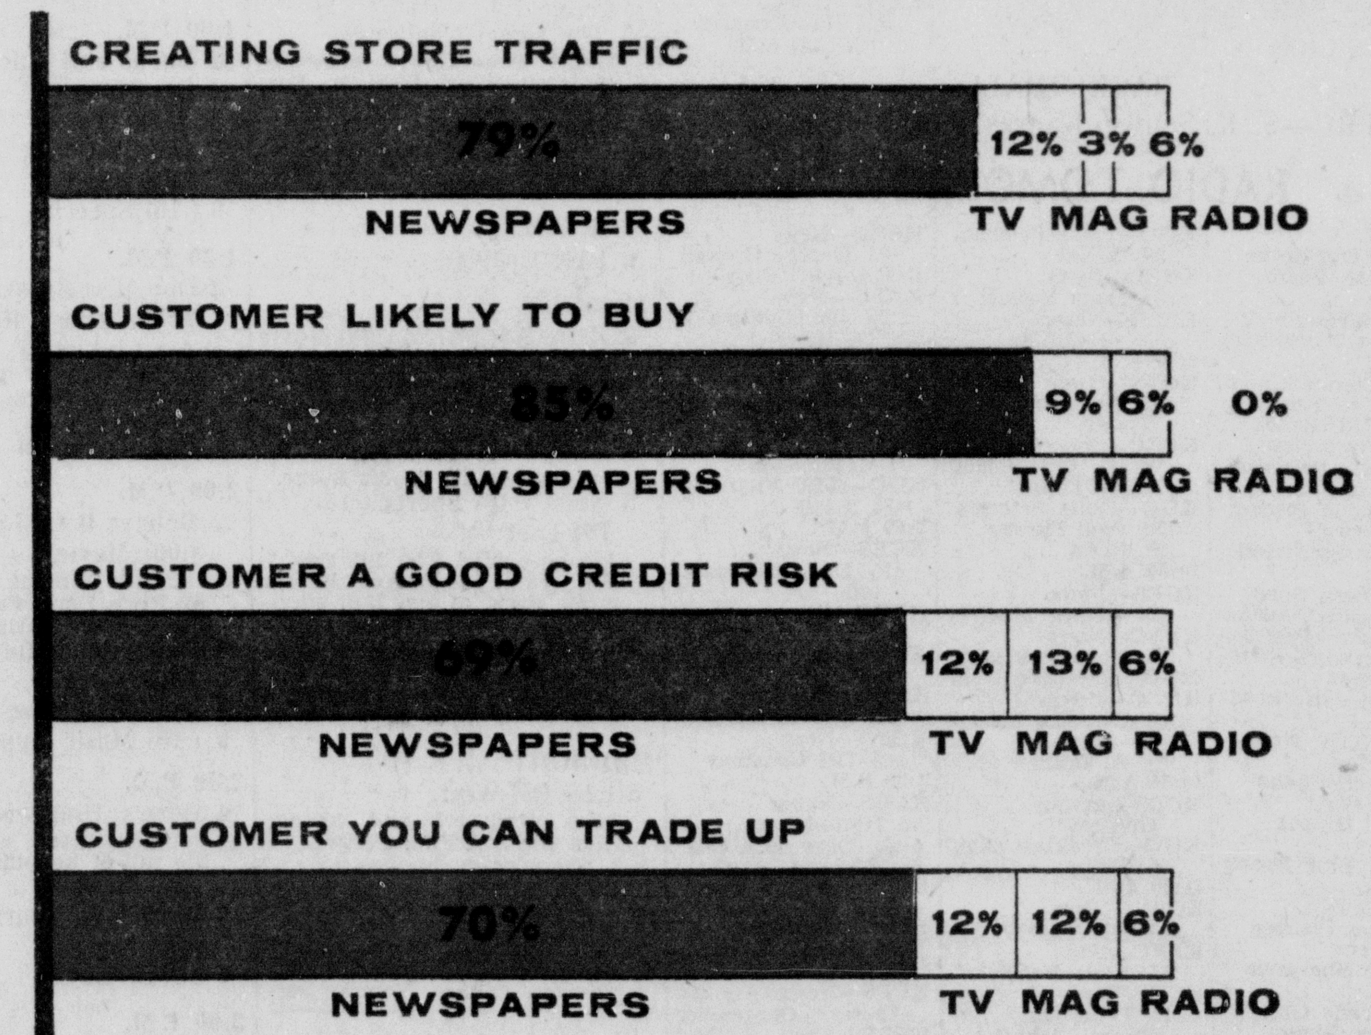
DAILY NEWSPAPER



A group of leading appliance dealers, accounting for 75% of a major brand's TV sales in the Chicago market, was surveyed by the Barlow Survey Service for the Chicago Tribune. The dealers were asked to rate advertising media according to several important criteria. Here are the percentages of first-place choices, revealing dealer attitude toward newspapers, TV, magazines and radio.

Research shows readers overwhelmingly endorse the I-J for advertising

Results start with readership. And Marin families find advertising in the I-J more useful by a margin of 2 to 1 over all other newspapers circulated in Marin County. These findings are based on the Marin County Newspaper Home Coverage & Characteristic Study conducted by Field Research Company, well-known and respected research organization.
